Farther shining than the beacon
Of thy white-flamed chapel light,
Farther famed than purpled splendors
Of horizon hills at night
Is thy name, O Middlebury;
Proud as valley’s stately sweep
Is the homage of thy children,
New inspired thy faith to keep.

Sturdier than everlasting
From thy rock-ribbed mountain sides,
Simpler than the sylvan beauty
Where the twisted Otter glides
Is the friendship thou art giving;
And thy counselled strength instills
Growth in fame, O Middlebury,
Consummation of the hills.

Class History

On an extremely hot afternoon in the latter part of September, 1926, a group of very green boys and girls perspired the length of the hill to get their first look at good old Middlebury and to unite a few days later as the class of 1930. They were very green at the time; but few would admit it then, though all will now. Many things have happened since that day; violent battles were fought with the Sophs, more violent ones with the class rooms, and still more violent battles were fought with themselves.

We had our Class plays and our Frosh Frolic and our Soph Hop. They were very successful, too, and will long be treasured in our memories. We are looking forward to a Junior Week which will surpass everything offered in the past and remain a standard for those following to attain. But these are only incidental; they can hardly serve as a measure of success or failure. The individual development of character, the degree of assimilated knowledge, the process of bleaching our original verdency is our true history.
CONWELL WORDEN ABBOTT
“Connie”
Rye, New York
Rye High School
Interfraternity Baseball (1); Interfraternity Golf (1, 2); Dramatic Club (1, 2, 3).
“Ministers’ sons and Deacons’ daughters, etc.”
“Connie” has failed miserably at holding up the tradition that ministers’ sons always come to bad ends. Possibly it was a good thing. It seems at times as though he was going into the restaurant business when one considers all the different lunch houses that have employed him during his sojourn in Middlebury. But “Connie” has other aims. He says he is going to South America and be a civil engineer. Some day he may have a bridge or something named after him, and what more could one want?

EDWARD RONALD ALLEN
“Ron”
Rochester, New York
AY
East High School
Band (1, 2); Orchestra (1, 2, 3); Glee Club (2, 3); Assistant Manager of Hockey (3); Junior Play Committee.
“A loyal, just, and upright gentleman . . .”
Speaking of loyalty—that is just what “Ron” is to Rochester. Cheer up “Ron,” that is an excellent place to be from. Even though this youth does come from Rochester and eternally wears a stern, reserved, attitude, he has been known to crack jokes and play about a bit, and when that is all done he settles down to work and makes “whatnot” fly. He is no slouch in showing freshmen how to clear the skating rink; leads in his section of the glee club and in the orchestra is perfection itself. What more could you want?

You can't keep a good man down and Carle is still going up, at least in high jumping. If you doubt it look at the records he holds and the array of medals he totes about. We really would not be surprised to see him leap over the moon some day if he should happen to wake up. Often we have unthinkingly greeted him in the morning and then regretted it for the rest of the day for fear that we had finally wakened the sleeping beauty. However that is only one of his two weaknesses. His other is—well, did you ever see him at Joe's. Sure you have.
But really he doesn't work there. He goes to college.

in college and one now sometimes wonders where he will go next year.
It looks as though we would have to get the alumni busy building one so that he can keep his record. We used to wonder what "Curt" did with his spare time and dropped in to see one day. We found him reading Emerhe does this quite often. More power to you "Curt"; we sometimes wish we had done it ourselves.

“A quiet, well mannered youth.”
“Ellie” is a native of the land of the bean and cod, but we don’t hold that against him for the simple reason that he left it when he wanted to get an education. And he did the proper thing. Even though we have no cods in Otter Creek, we have plenty of fish to take their places and “Ellie” is not one of them. He is a quiet boy, somewhat of an athlete in a small way, and knows what he is here for. If there were more like him this would certainly be a happier world to live in.

“Vivere est cogitare.”
“Berg” is noted for two things in particular; his superb acting of the harder rôles in the Playhouse; and his tragic sketches of life which he gives us through the medium of the Saxonian. He has recently taken to hiding himself down town, but occasionally comes up the hill to the sporadic cabal of the Sigma Phi Nothings where his philosophy reigns supreme. Beneath his austere exterior is a heart as big as one usually finds, but far more valuable. Alas! You are too late, some one else has already taken it.

“Alec” showed his good sense and that we all enjoy having him around and are obliged to commend his good judgment. We are told that he is one of the local Spanish sharks and we expect to see his name among the important importers some day. He is a silent individual, though, and we often wonder what is going on behind that stolid front. But, as they say

Of all the wonders that one has seen, it seems most strange that a man can live in North Starr Hall for three years and still remain sane.
Maybe “Red” has and maybe he hasn’t,
but at any rate he still provides regal entertainment for the Chaos Club and holds the record for pulling the worst punts North Starr offers. One continin a short time he becomes an indispensable antidote for the poison of boredom.

“Only good, they say, comes from the Emerald Isle.”
And the funny part about it, he is good, and since his arrival in Middlebury he has proved the fact several times. Just leave it to the fighting Irishman to make a basketball game interesting or anything else for that matter. Our next year’s football manager is rather well known on the north side of the hill (and not for his athletic ability either). They tell us over there that his versatility adds to the humor and color of any occasion, especially so during social functions.

“Hey?” “What say?” Looking around we are most apt to see our auburn-haired Bobbie, the representative from the Nutmeg state. His chief avocation is versatility. In everything from baseball to wooing he is well toward the top. Probably his greatest quality is his ability to “sneak a fast one” past the opposing batsman. U.V.M. will have to worry about the outcome of the game if Bobbie is in there doing the twirling. We hear that Bobbie’s biggest season comes in the summer, but we won’t go into that here.

“I have often regretted my speech, but never my silence.”

Here is the one man who knows what he is in college for and is going to get it. In fact, “Eddie’s” pursuit of education is sometimes so avid that he may be found for hours at a time in the library engaged in a close perusal of such scholarly magazines as the Saturday Evening Post and the Popular Mechanics. When questioned about his reading choices he asked, “What can one do? This place doesn’t carry either True Stories or Captain Billie’s Whizz Bang.” So we had to forgive him.

Aside from all this he is chiefly devoted to economics and an enviable disregard for the superfluities of life. He should go far.

“Git!”
Shorty wrote this write-up himself so you all can see how he is affected with extreme modesty. He says that he lived down his bad name acquired in his green days, but can’t think for the love of anything what his bad name was. He is a friendly cuss and sometimes strives to please the professors and do a little studying. “Shorty” left out his most important attribute and position, that of Assistant Electrician at the Playhouse. He has done big things here and we hope that he continues and keeps going up.

For “Dave” has left the red country of Bloomfield just to be with you for a while. But he swears that he will never desert his lady friend of the home town so you will have to be cautious and get out all your old, as well as new, tricks. Try talking handball to him, that is his strong point—or try tennis—either will do. He used to claim that he could beat all comers at both these sports. Maybe he will someday. At least he has the satisfaction of realizing that one improves with practice.

"For he that runs it well, runs twice the race."

Six miles over the country roads or two miles on the cinders are just in the day's work for "Bob." It is not at all difficult to picture him in the dim future sitting before the fireplace surrounded by his grandchildren and answering their questions about the "Funny shoes with the nails sticking out of them," or about the "letters on that sweater. They aren't your initials," etc. And then when they ask him about the queer hat "with those gold gadgets on it" we feel sure that he will reply that it used to be his rain hat.

George is a good boy even if he does come from Providence and plays the trombone. Both trombone and Providence should be abolished under ordinary circumstances, but with George about, we are apt to forgive almost anything. George also has quite a voice. He sings in the choir, the Glee Club and the Showers. We have only half started on this gentleman's virtues. He is not only a second Poly-hymnia but also rivals Antaeus.

One not "in the know" would think that "Clint" was one of these studious, hard-working youths who never saw anything approaching college life but all this merely goes to prove that appearances can't be trusted. Those that know him have stories—and stories—but so has "Clint." We meet him every so often down in the "A and P" and wonder when he is going to be president. He says that he is going to work up from the bottom and has already advanced from behind the scenery to behind the counter.

"He walks along the path as though hunting for his shoes."

Diguilio is famous in a small way for his ability to go to college, live in South Starr, be in things, and still keep out of one's way. It is a shame that "Dig" is so small because he might have turned out to be quite an athlete. He managed to keep on the Frosh Football squad for the entire season despite his abbreviated stature. He has also been an ardent outdoor man in other ways; baseball, hand ball, track and golf, are among his favorites. "Dig" is also a student of no mean ability and should go far when he graduates.

We have often wondered how it seems to be up in the world and look down on our fellows, but “Slim” always seems to be able to smile, no matter what the weather conditions are up there, so it must be all right. Early in the spring he usually takes to twirling some foolish looking contrivance over his head only to let it go and watch it fly through space. Don’t worry about his having a soft spot in his head for he is only practicing so that he will be able to throw the hammer for another soft spot in U. V. M.’s record.

“Don” certainly got off with a flying start in his freshman year with berths on the frosh football team and the varsity track squad. And he has held to the winged feet ever since. Track is not the only place where he is a fast traveler. Any classmate will admit that his studies find him just as apt. When the last Midd. call is given we are sure that we will find him up in front breaking the tape. “Don” will be remembered long after Shoreham, Vermont, has passed into history.

This jovial youth seems to get along beautifully with neither wine or women but he does need the song. When "Dick" sits down in front of the piano in the cinema he just makes the audience weep with emotion and no Victorphone is necessary to carry the desired effect. He has an uncanny way of making the ivories talk and causes all present to leap around as though the place was a professional dancing school. If you find your room stacked some day or a French bed made up, you can be sure that "Zeke" can at least give you a general idea as to who the perpetrator is, even if he has a guilty look in his eyes. He is never too busy, even with all his work, to give a man a helping hand (or to nail your shoes to the floor).

"Ray," the joy of Rutland, is one of our more famous Vermonters. His chief forte seems to be his hitting. He never ceases from one end of the year to the other. First he hits the books, then the hoop; in the spring he hits the baseball spheroid and the golf pellet in the fall. He used to hit the line pretty hard in football (also in Psychology). "Ray" is never found on the North side of the hill hitting the co-eds, but we hear that he frequently hits the trail for Rutland. Does that explain it, girls?

"Give every man thine ear but few thy voice."

"Wallie" comes from New Hampshire the same as Thomas Bailey Aldrich though it is certain that the latter could not spout French with a facility equal to "Greenie's." One wonders sometimes why it is that Green has made himself so proficient in this language. Is it a more euphonious language than English to use on the ladies? Or is it merely a means to earn a living? Once "Greenie" took a fling at the publishing game, but we won't go into that. At any rate he is a good sort of person to have around and this is not a lot of blarney either.

"Sam" entered the ranks of the great through the medium of athletic prowess and a genial personality. To everyone who has attended football games in the last couple of years "Sammy" is no stranger as we can always see him in the middle of the struggle putting Middlebury nearer the top. His unusual ability has been rewarded with the captaincy for the coming year and Middlebury has to get a bigger hat because of pride in her modest son.

"Omnia vincit amor."

We used to wonder whether or not Lloyd was still going to school or if he had moved down town. It was not until we reviewed his activities that we were convinced that he was still the indispensable member of Middlebury that he always was. He has been one of those fortunate youths who can balance his extra curricula subjects to perfection. Athletics, both playing and managing, are in his list. Playing in the band and serving on committees add to the diversity and on top of all that, long and short walks all over the town.

"Hence, vain deluding joys."

Don't be deceived—It is this gentleman's appearance and not his behavior which is responsible for his ecclesiastical cognomen. Again don't be deceived—sometimes his behavior almost cries out in favor of the name. At any rate, name or no name, Haskins has two outstanding traits! (a) He has any amount of stored up ability, and (b) he will tap it as soon as he wants to and no sooner.

As a forensic figure he takes the prize and as a track star, he is not without honor.

"A most uncommon urchin."

"Hoffy," from good old "Ti," is our happy-go-lucky-willing-to-do-anything boy. It is a gray day that doesn't find him in good or better humor. We have been told that he is rather a high jumper and somewhat of a broad jumper to boot, but these are the least of his accomplishments. He wears out all his old clothes in the daytime in order to reserve his "Sunday-go-to-meeting outfit" for the evening, when he makes a pilgrimage to the Château.

"This man decided not to Live, but to Know."
Our respects to Carl Howard, the natural born “Phi Bete,” “French-at-a-glance” artist. When Carl arrived at Middlebury his first concern was to see to it that his fellow sufferers were properly fed. To this end he hied himself to Hepburn Hall and took to slinging hash in the approved manner. He shortly became as proficient at luging Irish stew and “whatnot” as he was with French verbs. But the verbs had a stronger appeal, or was it something else that made him transfer his allegiance to the Château the next year. At any rate we expect very much in the way of solid accomplishment from Carl and hope that we can send our children to his school.

His other athletic talents lie in bridge playing, at which he is nothing short of remarkable. He is also somewhat of a student—but who cares about that.

Nothing phases "K." Whether his duty is digging out a Waterbury cellar or serving on a church social committee, the characteristic pleasant smile and pithy sayings are invariably present. And on top of all this he is a traveled man. Many are the curious tales he brings back from his trips to "Newport." And he has strange dates, too, with some unknown Miss A or Miss G. “Mac” is one of these versatile boys that one reads about. He puts up a good game as end on the football team, manages our all-star basketball squad, and gets euphonious in the glee club. However, as with all versatile youths, especially if they are handsome, “Mac” devotes some time to the fragile sex. We have been told that he has taken to specializing on one fair co-ed lately, but we hardly blame him in the least. The Alpha Sigs all say of “Mac” that his two main assets are a genial disposition and plenty of determination.

"Late again, 'Mac'?" "No such thing. I've reformed," has almost become a by-word, but we still all welcome his breezy, if somewhat belated appearance in our classes. Can you imagine a baseball diamond, a tennis court or a basketball court without our "Mac" on it? We can't even if you can. "Mac" says that some day he is going to get his "M" at bridge, even if he has to finesse to do it, but some of his brothers claim that it is impossible unless he wears blinders to keep his mind on the game. Witness long hours devoted to science in the bug and chem labs. At other times we doubt it. We have heard about Glee Club trips . . . and after the concerts . . .

But then he has some useful purpose in life. He takes the roll call of the boys of ’30 and it is rumored that he is not to be bribed. (We have heard that he even gave himself a cut once when he was late.) In spite of a tendency to be a bit scatterbrained, “Swampy” is a thoroughly purposeful person and an asset to any class.

Possibly he thinks that those spectacles of his are attainment enough. They certainly lend a profound air to an otherwise innocent countenance. With a quiet air "Sesh" greets us on the campus and then regales us with stories regarding his experiences "organic" and the "boiling point of ester," whoever she is. “Ah-ha, forsooth, a Brobdignagian!”

Remember in the good old days of our Frosh Year in Painter Hall? If any of the traditionary cutting up was going on you could always depend on “Charlie” to be on hand with his gang. We haven’t got the slightest idea as to who the instigator of those affairs might have been but if such play will develop linesmen of “Charlie’s” caliber we wish that the leader of the lot would make himself public and produce some more football players. It seems rather strange that “Charlie” should enjoy Middlebury so much in the summer, but we think that we could make a rather good attempt at answering the question, if it were put to us.

RALPH EUGENE WOODBURY

Glens Falls High School

Spanish Club (1); Dramatic Club (1, 2); Interfraternity Basketball and Baseball (1, 2); Tennis Squad (1, 2, 3); Candidate for Assistant Manager of Hockey (2); College Tennis Champion (3); Junior Tea Committee.

“What’s up?”

“Woodie,” the pride of Glens Falls, is noted for two things. He is a tennis player of the first water, as shown by his recent college championship, and is also possessed with the sibylline art of bluff. If “Woodie” would only spare us enough time to get acquainted with him we might be able to say more about him. However, we do know that Pearsons Hall is enjoying the numerous talents which this boy possesses and we should not be selfish. Good luck, “Rega.”

"For he was Granada's darling knight."
The champion undergraduate wanderer, "Stew," finally answered the call of Middlebury after tarrying a while at Dartmouth and U. of Virginia. He says he likes it here and thinks that he will stay. Well, that's our good luck. It would be a distinct loss to us all if we didn't see him some time during the day on his way from the Deke house down Main Street. Maybe he stays just to take this little jaunt. Quien sabe?

Theodore Henry Zaremba

Delta Tau; Sage; Candidate for Assistant Manager of Baseball (2); Interfraternity Council (3).
"It is less pain to learn in youth than to be ignorant in old age."
"Ted" must, it seems, think in the channels mentioned above, for he surely does hit the books in particular and life in general. He used to hit quite a pace among the ladies in his earlier days, but at the present seems to be bunching his hits. Are we right? We hope so because we would hate to misrepresent a man of "Ted's" efficiency and personality. P. S. This is for the ladies only. If you don't know who "Ted" is, look about you. He is that smooth boy with all the "It" or should we call it "They"?

MERLE LILIAN ADAMS
"Merle"
Rutland, Vermont
AAA
Rutland High School
Dramatic Club (1, 2).
"The quiet mind is richer than a crown."
We envy Merle her knack of getting things done. Although studies and things of a literary nature have much more interest for her than athletic pursuits, she may often be seen loyally doing her bit on the side lines. She has also played her part along another line, for how would the "mineral seekers" have fared for grub without her hospitality? However, Middlebury's attractions seem to fade when week-ends come, for one is sure to see her southward bound. Though inclined to be somewhat reserved in general, to those who are privileged to know her she is a warm friend.

CAROLYN LEE ALLEN

"Her lot seems light, her heart seems gay."
Carolyn is usually smiling and is always ready for fun with everybody. Seemingly she has many hobbies, but we think that we know her favorite, for we have seen her several times on the "Boards" and always to advantage. We like her so well that we almost begrudge Hood the year that it had her and we did not.

Cushing Academy, Ashburnham, Mass.
Campus Tryout (1); Dramatic Club (1); French Club (1, 2, 3); Comité de Fêtes (1), Publicity Manager (2, 3); Campus Reporter (2), Assistant Editor (3); Spanish Club (3).
“She will outstrip all praise, And make it halt behind.”
“Chris” is both intelligent and brave, as her record of three years at the Château tends to show. The Campus office is also an attraction for her, and many a fruitful hour has she spent there reading proofs. She has an unassuming way about her, and perhaps* some people do not know her, but if such be the case they are the losers, for she is well worth knowing; a loyal, competent, sincere, and ready-for-fun little lass. What more could one wish in a friend?
*(Ed. note: We doubt it).

JANICE ELIZABETH ALWILL

“Her eyes are wells of mischief.”
One would never recognize the quiet little freshman who came to us from Rutland, for it was off with her locks and off with her shyness for “Jan.” She is not hard to know—and once known is liked. Social rather than student activities find her a participant. And now—a biological phenomenon—she possesses two hearts! “Jan” says she is going to be a French teacher, but we wonder if this is her chief ambition.

"Deeds rather than words."

The fact that "Batch" has accomplished so much, and her unassuming air and sincerity, as well as her cheerfulness and willingness to help others, have won her true friends on all sides.

(Ed. note: What activity did she miss?)

EDITH ANNIE BASCOM

"To thine own self be true."

Here comes the girl with the truly pink cheeks, the big blue eyes, and the roguish smile, a frank spirit, and a generous heart. No matter how hard she works, Math, Chem, or outside interests, Edith is always cheerful. Her charming soprano voice is an asset to the choir and a great pleasure to hear when she can be prevailed upon to sing alone for us. We are mighty glad you came way up on the hill to be with us this year, Edith.
ESTHER MARION BENEDICT

Whenever one wants a jolly good time “Benny’s” is the place to go. It must be her dry humor, for even the simplest story seems funny when she tells it—and accompanies it with her hearty laugh. But all is not levity with her, for we have a no more industrious student among us. She is an earnest little being with a big heart and friendly ways. What would we do without “Benny” to help us search for the silver lining?

ANNA STERLING BOARDMAN
“Anna”
Middlebury, Vermont
Middlebury High School
Dramatic Club (2, 3); Pyramid Club.
“Serene, I fold my hands and wait.”
Unfortunately many of us do not know Anna as well as we should like as she lives off the hill, but those of us who do know her can declare our appreciation. She makes a genuine friend and a jolly comrade. Anna is always ready for a frolic—if you do not believe it just watch that merry little twinkle in her eye. She is one of the gamest of the class of ’30.
MARY JOSEPHINE BOWDISH
"Mary"
Weybridge, Vermont
Middlebury High School

Pyramid Club.
"She moves among us with a quiet grace."

Mary is so quiet that few know her well, but that does not keep one who is acquainted with her from realizing what a competent person she is. Mary is one of those people who are always helping with the little things that bother one so much, and she loves to do them. If you want to raise the roof, dance, or play bridge, Mary will enjoy doing it too. She hates to hurt a person's feelings, and her fund of patience is rather deeper than most.

MARGUERITE ELIZABETH BROWN
"Marguerite"
Greenfield, Mass.

AΣΔ
Greenfield High School
Glee Club (1, 2); Dramatic Club (1, 2, 3); French Club (1, 3).

"Mischief dances in her eyes,
And smiles upon her lips."

To the uninitiated Marguerite may seem quiet, but one little glimpse of her eyes gives her away. Even those who know are often surprised by her sudden, droll remarks—or actions—and are always glad to be near, for the time passes pleasantly, though all too quickly, when she is around. One might also say—

"She is pretty to walk with,
And witty to talk with,
And pleasant, too, to think on."
Orpha Lucile Brown

Cleveland, Ohio
KKI
Glenville High School
Orchestra (1, 2, 3); Dramatic Club (1, 2, 3); Choir (2, 3); “Pirates of Penzance” (3); Dean’s List.
“The brain contains ten thousand cells;
In each some active pleasure dwells.”

Cleveland must be the place to come from if you want to be bright, judging from Orpha. She is one of those girls who take three Lab courses and bear them cheerfully! Playing the microscope and playing the piano seem to be her favorite sports. Oh, and by the way—have you ever heard of Orpha’s fondness for canaries? By that we might mean that she rivals them in song, but—that’s not all we mean either.

Aline Tamah Buck
“Buckie” “Aline”
Newport, Vermont
Newport High School
French Club (1, 2, 3); Dramatic Club (1, 2, 3); Hiking Club (1, 2, 3); Rural Discussion Group, Y. W. C. A. (2); Class Volley Ball (2); Choir (3); “Pirates of Penzance” (3).
“Friendly in her ways.”

Who is that in the Chât corridor chatting so fluently in French? Can it be Aline whose “je ne care pas” and “je n’ai pas de luck” and hasty glance around for unexpected listeners convulsed us last fall? It must be, for there is that same jolly chuckle and optimistic spirit for which “Buckie” has always been noted. Although she spends a great deal of her time in the music studio, Aline is always ready for a hike or a chat with the rest of the gang.
RUTH BRADFORD BURNHAM

“Ruth”
Medford, Massachusetts
AEA
Medford High School

Class Basketball Team (1, 2, 3); Class Hockey Team (1, 2, 3); French Club (1, 2, 3); Dramatic Club (1, 2, 3); Health Club (1); Class Secretary (3); Junior Week Program Committee (3).

“I would be friends with you and have your love.”

Ruth is always doing something which will make you laugh. Hers is the eye with the mischievous twinkle, the laugh that is often a chuckle, for if she cannot get something on you in one way she will in another and you, startled, will turn and join in the hearty laughter. But that we certainly do realize her dependability is shown by the fact that she holds the position of secretary of our class, and performs her duties very capably.

HELEN JEAN CAMPBELL

“Jean”
Hartford, Connecticut

Dramatic Club (1, 2, 3); Pyramid Club.

“She hath a smile for all, a tender word of sympathy.”

Who is this decided little person with the huge armful of books, rushing to classes, hurrying to Chapel or looking eagerly around for an absent friend? Why “Jeanie” of course. Jean and her sweet little smile are as inseparable as the Mary and her lamb of our nursery rhyme days. If you ever crave sympathy and understanding hunt up Jean and life will soon regain its interest.
MARIE OLIVE COMTOIS

“Marie”

Worcester, Massachusetts

North High School, Worcester

Dramatic Club (1, 2, 3); French Club (1, 3); Class Hockey Team (1); Sophomore Hop Committee; Sophomore Rules Committee; Junior Week Publicity Committee.

“Unknown thoughts go through her mind.”

Introducing Marie of the baby-blue eyes and the perfectly marcelled hair. She is one of those people who help life along so delightfully by very quietly doing that thing which you simply must get done, have not time to do, and worry about, until lo! Marie has gladly and capably done it for you. Whether on a dance committee or the hockey field, she can be depended on to do her share and even more than her share if necessary. Confidentially, though, she can concoct a feed fit for a king, and she is a student of no mean ability.

BEATRICE MARY COUGHLIN

“Bea”

Manchester, Connecticut

South Manchester High School

French Club (1, 3); Class Hockey Team (1, 2, 3), All-Midd Hockey Team (3), Championship Team (3); Class Baseball Team (1, 2); Dramatic Club (1, 2, 3); Hiking Club (1, 3); Class Basketball Team (2); Class Volley Ball Team (2); Dean’s List.

“Ever loyal, ever true to what task she had to do.”

No course is too hard for “Bea,” for everything she does is well done. Sometimes we wonder if she lives at the Châtel or at the Chem Lab. Athletics, too, hold her interest, and she is outstanding in them in spite of the possible handicap of height. She is small and peppy, and one is always sure of a good time when she is around. Laugh and “Bea” laughs with you; cry and “Bea” will gladly help you to look for the brighter side.

"It's guid to be merry and wise,
It's guid to be honest and true."
A tall girl with a broad grin, eyes full of laughter, and a hearty "hello" for every one—"Crookie." Her sense of humor and her good nature are always in evidence. Cheer-leading and acting are her fortes. But she also has her serious moments, and when the occasion arises, there are few who are more capable or have more dignity.
Her friends are many and her loyalty is assured.

LUCILE FLORENCE DAMERELL

"Zounds, a woman of mystery come among us."
Lucile's big, brown, rather unusual eyes look straight into yours; her laugh is merry and her smile is a friendly one. A certain dignity is hers, and the strength to stand at all times for what she thinks is right. This combination of dignity and a zest for fun makes her a girl whom all would like to know and have for a companion.
HAZEL DOWNING

"Hazel"

"And her smile is the friendliest kind."
Who is that shrieking in loud delight and clapping her hands vigorously behind us at the game? To hear her you would think that she was an old Midd veteran. But no, she just arrived on our campus this year from the University of California, and has already entered into our activities with that zest and hearty cooperation which has won friends for her on all sides. If you want to learn still more about her and perhaps see a charming blush, just ask her who her artist friend is who drew the pictures on the wall of her room.

LOUISE JENKINS DROWNE

"Dignity in woman is sublime."
The most striking thing about Louise is her dignity, a natural dignity that most of us crave to possess and can never achieve. And what a surprise it is to discover that under that dignity there is a merry self ready for the best of good times. Her pleasing personality has gained a large place for her among our ranks, and deservedly so, as all the Weybridgites who served under her as House Chairman last year will testify.
ELIZABETH HOWARD DYER
“Betty”
Greenfield, Massachusetts
Arms Academy
Shelburne Falls, Massachusetts
Baseball (1); Dramatic Club (1, 2); Cast of “Kempy” (1); Sophomore Rules Committee; Cast of “The Whole Town’s Talking”; Women’s Prize-Speaking Contest (2); Dean’s List; Wig and Pen (3); House Chairman (3); First Prize, Saxonian Prize Story Contests (3); Pyramid Club.

“Thou that laughed time and fear to scorn.”
From a shadowed room comes the deep, dramatic tones of the speaker in the midst of a thrilling tale. One minute stifled exclamations of awe and fear are heard, and the next wild bursts of laughter. Who but “Betty” could so cleverly sway the emotions of her audience? Character parts and cheerful-looking marks seem to be her specialties—and her friendliness and eagerness to be in the midst of things are felt by all.

BLANCHE ELLENORE EMMORY

Class Hockey Team (1); Freshman Representative, W. A. A.; Class Baseball Team (2); All-Midd Baseball (2); Volley Ball Team (3), All-Midd Volley Ball Team (3), Numerals (3); Dramatic Club (1, 2, 3).

“Tis the greatest folly
Not to be jolly—
That’s what I think.”

“Bumnie” is always playing tricks on some one, but in such a way that you cannot be angry with her. Think of “Bumnie” and you think of a bright remark, a slow smile, and a big coon coat. And that’s not all—you know she made the All-Midd Baseball Team last year. Altogether “Bumnie” makes a good sport and a good friend!
Alice Thelma French

"What shall I do with all the days and hours That must be counted ere I see thy face?"
Behold—a tiny, low-voiced heroine who reaches just as high as his heart.
How we miss the hero of the affair this year, but how much heavier is that "Sunday morning special "pile. Thelma is interested in good times like all the rest of us, but her interests are often more serious than that as we know from finding the Dean's List among her activities.

Annie Edith Fuller
"Annie"
South Londonderry, Vermont
Leland and Gray Seminary
Townshend, Vermont
House Chairman (1); French Club (1); Rural Discussion Group, Y. W. C. A. (2, 3); Dramatic Club (2); Hiking Club (2); German Club (3); Biology Club (3); Pyramid Club.
"A friend in need is a friend indeed."
"Annie" is a cheery little person and full of life and fun with a conscientiousness back of it all which makes her do everything well. If you are unable to locate her on the hill you will probably find her at the Bug Lab, but as busy as she is she is ever ready to help a friend whether in little things or big. And it is a pleasure to hear her sing.
Alice Mary Guest
“Guesty”
East Orange, New Jersey
KKT
East Orange High School
Class Hockey Team (1, 2), Captain (1); Class Volley Ball Team (1, 3), Captain (1), Championship Team (3); Class Basketball Team (1, 2); Track (1); Dramatic Club (1, 2, 3); Sophomore Hop Committee; House Chairman (2); Blazer Committee (3); Pan-Hellenic Council (3); Vice-Chairman of Junior Week; Social Editor, 1930 KALEIDOSCOPE.
“Her hair is like sunshine, her heart is like gold.”

A glance at “Guesty’s” activities shows her versatility. She is full of originality and pep, which, when combined with sincerity and her ability to laugh or be serious according to the general mood, make her a popular member of the class of ’30. But now “Guesty” wants to know why freshmen will come to college to cause such heartbreak? There is one by actual and indisputable measure who has a smaller nose than “Guesty.”

Lucy Gorham Hager
“Lucy”
Vergennes, Vermont
KKT
Albany (N. Y.) High School
New York State College, Albany, N. Y. (1, 2); Dramatic Club (3).
“Life is so short, you know.”
“Trying to write me up, said curiously?” (Lucy speaking.) “Bet you can’t because I only came this year.” “Bet we can because we like you and are awfully glad you came.” (Class of ’30 speaking.) . . . Her unusual hair with its rich copper glints and her jaunty air as she swings along attracted attention at once. Not even her delightful trick of labeling her remarks (as shown above) can hide the tactfully asked questions that draw one out. She fences as well as she dances—and we hear that she is a master of the foils.
NATHALIE GOULD HALL

Haverhill, Massachusetts
KKT
Haverhill High School

Hiking Club (1, 2, 3), Head of Hiking (3); Dramatic Club (1, 2); French Club (1); Health Club (1, 2, 3); Spanish Club (3).

“I give thee all I can, no more.”

Tall, slender, reserved—there are few who really know “Nat” Hall; yet her smile and friendly glance are known to all. She has a cheery way and her words, though few, are well and thoughtfully chosen; and her friends insist on keeping her. At bridge she is a whiz; hikes are interesting when she is along; and studies have no terrors for her. When she finds something to do she acts immediately.

WILHELMINA CLARA HAYES
“Kitty”

Jamaica High School

Dramatic Club (1, 2); Sophomore Play Committee (2); Cast of “Heathenlike” (2); Wig and Pen (3); House Chairman (3); English Club (3).

“Look into her eyes and you will see there the reflection of friendship.”

Wilhelmina is one of those people who are not easily discouraged, who know what they want and work steadfastly to attain it, and who never leave a task until it is thoroughly accomplished. She is a girl whose pluck and clear-sighted outlook on life provoke one’s admiration and respect. So much for Wilhelmina—now comes “Kitty.” She is the one who always finds time for a lark and starts everybody off with her infectious giggle. Put the two together and you will find the best of sports and friends.
DOROTHEA EVERISTA HIGGINS

“None named her, but to praise.”

“Dot” is one who does many things and does them well. How she finds time to do as much as almost any two of the rest of us ordinary mortals and still be able to spend several minutes chatting with us in her friendly way is a secret worth knowing. Capable, dependable, thoughtful, and yet fond of a merry time she is a valuable asset to the ranks of ’30.

Dramatic Club (1, 2, 3); Women’s Glee Club (1); Choir (2, 3); Health Club (2); Hiking Club (3).

“By my troth, a pleasant-spirited lady.”

In spite of the fact that our ex-Brooklyn Quaker says “corffe,” we overlook an obviously acquired characteristic because of her sunny disposition and willing friendship. And we like to hear her sing, in her cosmopolitan way, “The Sidewalks of New York” or “Good Old Worcester Town.” A good scout, a sincere friend, and a pleasant companion, with blue eyes and fair hair—what better combination is there for success in any line? She’ll spare the rod and spoil the child—and get away with it. We’re with you, “Pill.”
HELEN KING HUNTLEY

Dramatic Club (1, 2, 3); Debating Club (2); Dean’s List; Rural Discussion Group, Y. W. C. A. (2); Health Club (2, 3); French Club (3); Pyramid Club.

“A cheery and a merry laugh she offers to her friends.”

Helen has a bookstand all her own—and packed full of books. Not just schoolbooks either; thought provoking, instructive, entertaining, the oldest, the newest—all kinds are there. She is so nice about loaning them, too. Few are more good-natured and obliging than Helen. If she had a cold, headache, sore throat and tonsilitis, and you asked two too many questions, Helen might lose her temper, but you would never realize it, and would probably think she was fooling. The right combination of head and heart means Helen.

“A life that moves to generous ends.”

Muriel is one of those quiet kind of people whom we all like, but do not half appreciate. She is the sort who does not make a big commotion, but quietly and efficiently gets things done. And you know she wears a Tau Kappa Alpha key—so it isn’t because she cannot talk. Have you ever heard her debate? If you have not you have missed something worth while.

"With a smile that is childlike and bland."
“Kim’s” surprising sense of humor is betrayed by the friendly laughter in her eyes. She is ever serene and is capable of juggling trays calmly and speedily, nor can she be cowed by fierce mathematical formulas. Her interest in people extends beyond our college world and some hour of every day finds her in Hillcrest parlor with the daily newspaper and a few apropos comments for her friends.

"It takes life to love life."
Who’s the one in the middle—the different one? Why, that’s “Ginny”; rightly named, you know—like ginger ale, all sparkle and bubble with the zest and warm flavor of ginger snaps. A proven athlete, too, she turns us positively green, but we once heard her say, “I’d give my shirt to write a book review.” And those who know her would not be surprised.

"Koch be nimble, Koch be quick. Koch jump over the hockey stick."
Or around, if you like, with a basketball, volley ball, baseball, golf or tennis ball. This sturdy little flying Dutchman knows them all. She's a shark at bridge and can pull off a great feed. She carries her love of the game into all that she does. To know "Ellie" is to know the days of real sport.

ΦΜ
Suffern High School
Dramatic Club (1, 2, 3); German Club (1, 2, 3); Volley Ball Team (2); Spanish Club (3).
"Her ways are ways of pleasantness and all her paths are peace."
Those who know "Meg" will say she can provide both "fun and feast." The trouble is she is so busy taking Home Ec courses and so apt to be reserved that we do not know her as well as we should like. We have often wondered if there is not some connection between Home Ec and those "Sunday morning specials" which she seems glad to receive.
JANET B. LEWIS
“Janet”
Middlebury, Vermont
Lowell High School, Lowell, Mass.
Dramatic Club (1, 2, 3); Class Basketball
(1, 2, 3); Women’s Prize Speaking Contest (2); Pyramid Club.
“When I consider life and its few years
I wonder at the idleness of tears.”

We would like to see more of Janet, but she lives off the hill and when she does come up—well, you know there is no seeing her then. She has a “hello” for every one and is always ready for anything exciting, whether it be a bridge party, a skating party or a B. K. basketball game. She is fond of talking with you and can go fifty words a minute, which rate of speed
she also tries out on the gym floor.

THELMA ELIZABETH LOUNSBURY

Seymour High School
Health Club (2); Hiking Club (2); Dramatic Club (2, 3); French Club (3); Rural Discussion Group, Y. W. C. A. (2, 3), World Fellowship Committee (3);
Pyramid Club.
“Woman is at best a contradiction still.”

Thelma likes to study, for one often finds her doing it, and her American Lit papers used to attest to that fact in spite of her fearful groans about the difficulty of ever finishing them.
She has another hobby, too, and an enjoyable one for the rest of us, since she knows which of the latest pieces are the best, and will also entertain us with certain of the classics—playing the victrola. Y. W. finds her an eager worker and the “Chatters” say she is a great parlez-vous-er in spite of her lack of previous experience.
Lillian Amelia Lucia “Lillian”
Middlebury, Vermont
Middlebury High School
French Club (1, 2, 3); Biology Club (3); Pyramid Club.
“Pick not your friends from outward show; feathers fly high, but pearls lie below.”
This very quiet miss from the outskirts of our “little city” reminds us of the girl of whom our mothers used to speak—the one who was “seen, but not heard.” But—do you know Lillian? Underneath that calm exterior is a jolly little person, peppy and full of fun. Lillian is one of those people who like to walk. She must, for consider whence she comes each day in pursuit of higher learning.

Ruth Elizabeth Maltby
“Maltby” “Ruth”
Stoughton, Massachusetts
Stoughton High School
Dramatic Club (1, 2, 3); French Club (1); Accompanist, Glee Club (1); Class Hockey Team (1, 2, 3), Captain (3), All-Midd Team (1, 2, 3); Class Baseball Team (1, 2); Class Second Basketball Team (2); Spanish Club (3); Head of Hockey, 1929.
“Angels listen while she plays.”
If you have not heard Ruth play the piano you should, for “Maltby’s” music is guaranteed to soothe the most savage breast ever awakened by the six-thirty rising bell. One day a great expanse of grassless territory was found near the women’s athletic field. After much searching the Council discovered that Ruth Maltby had been practicing hockey on the previous day, so she was dubbed Most Ardent Sprinter, and was put on the All-Midd Team.
LILA ELIZABETH MAXFIELD

“Li”
Brande, Vermont

Brandon High School

French Club (1); Dramatic Club (1, 2); Hiking Club (1); Class Hockey Team (1, 2, 3), Championship Team (3); Class Basketball Team (1); Pan-Hellenic Council (3); Wig and Pen (3); English Club (3).

“Dimples in her cheek, dimples in her chin, You’re always sure of lots of fun when Li comes rushing in.”

“Li” is one of the easy-going, care-free type, and wherever there’s a good time to be had “Li” is there! Her droll remarks have constantly amazed and delighted us from the Wilcox days on. Athletics have a strong pull for her, and when she’s not in the gym, on the field, at the Playhouse, playing bridge or doing other things, she attends to such minor details as studies. She is a pleasant combination of seriousness and fun.

CAROLINE WINIFRED MILLER

“Winnie”

Fair Haven, Vermont

Fair Haven High School

Class Second Basketball Team (1, 2); Health Club (1, 2, 3), President (3); Track (1); Orchestra (1, 2); Dramatic Club (1, 2, 3); Tennis (1); Class Hockey Team (2, 3); Class Baseball Team (2); Class Volley Ball Team (2); Archery (3); “Pirates of Penzance” (3).

“Youth is nimble, Age is lame.”

As long as she can get out for a game of hockey, basketball, volleyball, why, “Winnie” just does not mind how long the professors’ assignments are. She loves swimming, dancing of any sort, and does both well. Once when “Winnie” was in a blue mood, she drew out her painting set and created a little red canoe, and the next person who visited her saw a gay canoe and a smiling face—which is a characteristic trait.

"Hail to thee, blithe spirit."
Emily acquired "Chick" her freshman year and it is hers for life. In true chick fashion, you will find her necking at everything. She is on the hockey field, the tennis court or in the gym, as the case may be. Perhaps she is at the Campus office or down at the Playhouse doing big things behind the scenes. Put "chic" and "Chick" together and you will have Emily.

DOROTHEA IDE MOORE
"Dotty"
East Providence, Rhode Island
East Providence High School
Dramatic Club (3); Hiking Club (3); Spanish Club (3); Rural Discussion Group, Y. W. C. A. (3); Pyramid Club.
"Laugh and the world laughs with you; Weep and you weep alone."
Nobody is blue when "Dotty" is around, for she brings sunshine in spite of herself. Always jolly—the "blues" just are not in her vocabulary. Oh yes! "Dotty" has her serious moments, for one needs them here at Midd in spite of the fact that Gabble Gully would not seem to uphold that doctrine. If "Dot" finds it hard to get up now—what about those warm mornings in January?
Beatrice Evelyn Morell
"Bea"
Walpole, New Hampshire
Bellows Falls (Vt.) High School
French Club (1, 3); Dramatic Club (1, 2, 3); Hiking Club (3); Pyramid Club.
"‘Tis said that labor brings results."
Here is another stout defender of Gabble Gully, who adds a bit of seriousness to that famous alley at Hillcrest. And does “Bea” like to fish? Well, rather—she has a good line and she baits her hook and goes right after them. After what?—Marks!—and gets them, too. But she is not a bit of a grind and certainly is lots of fun. What about early morning tennis, “Bea”? Keep up the good work; it’s good for the appetite and the silhouette. Oui, n’est-ce pas?

"In whom beauty, wit and pleasure were one.”
“Betty” may be quiet, but that certainly does not mean that she is lacking in humor. Just be around some day when she is punning; if any one can glorify the “lowest form of wit” she can. Yet, if left alone, we know that “Betty” would ask only this of life—a garden with pansies, the gleam of candlelight on china and a few dear faces, and a small leather-bound volume of Barrie near-by.
ELIZABETH BURDITT PARKER

"Lib"

Waban, Massachusetts

Newton (Mass.) High School

Freshman Frolic Committee; Dramatic Club (1, 2); Class Baseball Team (1, 2), All-Midd Team (1, 2), Class Volley Ball Team (1, 2, 3), All-Midd Team (1, 2, 3), Head of Volley Ball (3); Cast of "The Whole Town's Talking" (2); Class Vice-President (2); Wig and Pen (3); Women's Circulation Manager, 1930 Kaleidoscope; Junior Prom Committee.

"When Lib comes, grief goes."

"Lib" is always ready for a dance or for concentrated study, being equally adroit at either. But don't get the impression that these complete her list of accomplishments, for she is just as skillful at basketball, baseball, or behind the footlights. Want to laugh? Listen to "Lib's" "Slants on a Dance," or—well, just listen when "Lib" is around.

CHARLOTTE PEGG

"Charlotte"

Stratford, Connecticut

Stratford High School

Coker College, Hartsville, South Carolina (1); French Club (2, 3); Health Program Club (2); Pyramid Club.

"No endeavor is in vain;
Its reward is in the doing."

And for endeavor the prize should go to Charlotte, for here, amid the frantic dash and careless haste of everything we do, we find a girl who takes things seriously enough to get the most out of them. We have seen just enough of Charlotte—who is a transfer, you know—to realize that she has a stout heart, enthusiasm, and the capacity for thoroughly enjoying all things that come her way.
CLARISSA PEIRCE
“Chris”
East Weymouth, Massachusetts
Girls’ Latin School, Boston
Simmons College (1); Dramatic Club (2); Health Club (2); Class Volley Ball Team (2); W. A. A. Council (2, 3); Y. W. C. A. Cabinet (3); Wig and Pen (3); Head of Archery (3); Pyramid Club.
“Hang sorrow; care would kill a cat; So therefore let’s be merry.”
This seems to be Clarissa’s motto—though she does get serious sometimes. We certainly are glad that she came to Midd last year and that she likes us; and we are sorry only that she did not come her freshman year. She is a good sport, is always on the spot ready to do her part, and does that part efficiently. Then, too, she is ever ready to lend a helping hand which makes us like her even better.

ULA PERRIN
“Perrin”
Barre, Vermont
Spaulding High School
Class Hockey Team (1), All-Midd Hockey Team (1, 2); Class Baseball Team (1), All-Midd Baseball Team (1); Class Volley Ball Team (1); German Club (3); Orchestra (1, 2, 3).
“I value science—none can prize it more.”
Our freshman year “Perrin” was musical. Not only did she live at the Music House, but she even played an instrument. Now we find her going in for science and spending her afternoons in the Chem Lab. However, she has other accomplishments besides stirring chemical concoctions, for she knows all about a hockey stick, and in spring she will show you the “ins” and “outs” of baseball. But you must not be afraid of her when she seems serious, for—well, there’s a saying about a barking dog which goes for Ula, too.
KATHERINE HAYNES PICKARD
"Kay"
Littleton, Massachusetts
AEA
Littleton High School

Class Basketball Team (1, 2, 3), Captain (3); Class Hockey Team (1, 2, 3), Championship Team (3); Class Volley Ball Team (3), Championship Team (3); Health Club (1); Business Tryout, Campus (1, 2), Assistant Business Manager (3); Dramatic Club (1, 2); Class Representative to Student Government (2); Sophomore Rules Committee; Blazer Committee (3); Vice-President, Student Government (3); French Club (3); Custodian of Women's Athletic Association (3); Junior Tea Committee.

"Good nature and good sense are her companions."

"Kay" was not long in showing us that our first impression of her as a shy young lady was all wrong, for she was soon in the very midst of things. The scope of her interests has continued to grow, and now we are convinced that there is nothing she cannot do and do well.

HELEN MARY PERRY
"H.P."
Springfield, Vermont
Springfield High School

Orchestra (1, 2, 3); Glee Club (1, 2); Health Club (1); Dramatic Club (1, 2); French Club (1, 3); Debating Club (1, 2); Hiking Club (1, 2, 3); Class Baseball Team (1, 2), All-Midd Team (1); Choir (2, 3); Dean's List (2); Women's Prize Speaking Contest (2); Women's Varsity Debating Team (2), Tau Kappa Alpha; House Committee (2); Kellogg Latin Prize (2); Pyramid Club.

"Knowledge is more than equivalent to force."

No one can be downcast when "H.P." is around. How can "H.P." always be so jolly when the rest of us are worrying about some "pre-announced"? But then, she always did her full share of high grade papers. If she is not at the dorm outside of class hours, she will probably be discovered at the Chapel organ, on the baseball field, at the tennis court, or on some long hike.
Ruth Hamilton Potter

"Ruth"
Worcester, Massachusetts

South High School, Worcester

Class Hockey Team (1, 2); Class Baseball Team (1), Captain (1); Outing Club (1); French Club (2, 3); Dramatic Club (2); Basketball (2); Volley Ball (2).

“A merry heart weareth a cheerful countenance.”

Ruth can do more things in half an hour than most of us can do in two. Mathematics holds no terrors for her, but French is her stronghold and she can chatter away in that language like a native. If you want a pleasant companion for a long hike or a peppy basketball player to challenge, choose Ruth immediately, for she is a jolly girl and can easily see the funny side of the situation. Ruth is an addition to any class and we are glad that she decided to come back and join ours.

Marjorie Gibson Potts

“Pottsie”
New Britain, Connecticut

New Britain High School

Class Baseball Team (2); Class Volley Ball Team (2); House Chairman (3); Pan-Hellenic Council (3).

“The only way to have a friend is to be one.”

“Pottsie” is a small person with wavy brown hair, laughing eyes and a ready welcome for all. It is almost safe to say that Weybridge Castle belongs to her after her three years there. We imagine that this year’s freshmen rather wonder about the wild stories of “Pottsie’s” pranks since we hear she makes a very capable house chairman, but—isn’t her detective ability a result of experience? Her sunny disposition and happy-go-lucky ways will always win her a welcome wherever she goes.
HELEN MARIET PUTNAM
“Helen”
South Lyndeboro, New Hampshire
Milford (N. H.) High School
Health Club (1, 2); Hiking Club (1, 3);
French Club (1, 2, 3); Spanish Club (3);
Pyramid Club.
“Duties well performed, and days well spent.”

This must be the secret of that calm exterior which Helen never fails to present—always absolutely unruffled. And such persistence—for her there is no giving in, whether the problem be concerned with a grammatical obscurity or the mastery of Robin Hood’s favorite diversion. As for studies—it’s certain that “Be prepared” must be her law. And any one can tell you that she is a “good scout.”

MIRIAM LOUISE ROBERTS
“Mim” “Roharts”
Glen Rock, New Jersey
IIIPhi
Ridgewood High School
Dramatic Club (1, 3); Sophomore Play Staff (2); Photographic Editor, 1930 Kaleidoscope.
“But they marry brunettes.”
Who could see this tall, slender, dark-haired girl without asking her name? “Mim” has style and lots of pep. She is always ready for fun, but still has time to be a Math student. The bright social lights have great attractions for her and she has seen as many of them at Midd as any of the class of ’30. Her decision seems to be that the lights of the Chi Psi Lodge are by far the strongest and most attractive.
FRANCELIA ROSE
"Fran"

Port Washington High School
Dramatic Club (2, 3); Campus Reporter (2, 3); Volley Ball Team (2); Social Committee, Y. W. C. A. (3); Pan-Hellenic (3); Spanish Club (3); Chairman Junior Tea Committee.
"The hour is fixed; the match is made."
"Fran" at first was quiet and retiring, but it did not take long for us to find out that "still waters run deep." She is always busy doing something, though she never talks about it. Beside her interest in campus activities—which have taken second place now—"Fran" is seriously devoting her time this year at the Home Ec House. One thing sure, Jack will not have to eat indigestible muffins for breakfast.

BERNICE FRANCES SARGEINT
"Bunny"
Greenfield, Massachusetts
AEΔ
Greenfield High School
Cast of "Kempy" (1); Dramatic Club (1, 2, 3); Spanish Club (1, 2, 3); Choir (2, 3); Cast of "The Whole Town's Talking" (2); French Club (3); Dean's List (2).
"A smile full of sunshine,
A heart full of song."
"Bunny" is one of our class actresses. Who on seeing her as Ethel in "Kempy," or as Sadie Bloom in "The Whole Town's Talking," can deny this? She sometimes tries to make us believe that she is quiet, but to those who know her this is just another of her pranks. And yet—there is the Dean's List. A devotee of good times, "Bunny" has many friends. A good time is a better time if "Bunny" is along.
Beatrice Emma Selleck
“Bee”
Middlebury, Vermont
Middlebury High School
French Club (2); Pyramid Club.

“Nothing can bring you peace but yourself.”

Hers is the quiet of remoteness which takes her out of the everyday world and makes the rest of us wonder about what she is thinking so deeply. “Bee” is a town girl and does not often visit on the hill, for she is always busy going to and from classes or running to the library to do that research work which seems to be her special hobby. But we know that she does not study all the time, for we hear rumors even up here on the hill. If you do not live on the hill next year, “Bee,” we are going to be greatly disappointed, for we want to know you well.

Margaret Stoughton
“Stuffton”
Hardwick, Vermont
Hardwick Academy
Dramatic Club (1, 3); French Club (3); Hiking Club (3); Rural Discussion Group, Y. W. C. A. (3); Pyramid Club.

“Ever let the Fancy roam.”

Why is it that her friends call her “Stuffton,” and does it have any connection with those highly imaginative tales which she always seems to make her audience believe? Margaret likes fun, but just ask her about winter fire drills and see whether she responds with a smile or a tear. She makes very clever silhouettes, and those who know say that she writes stories as well as she tells them.
RUTH SHELDON STURTEVANT
“Sturtie”
Windsor, Vermont

Middlebury High School
Dramatic Club (1, 2, 3); French Club (1, 2, 3); Health Club (2, 3); Hiking Club (3); Rural Discussion Group, Y. W. C. A. (3); Spanish Club (3).

“Where joy most revels, grief doth most lament.”

“Sturtie” is one of those thoughtful people who can realize almost immediately when you are in a blue mood and will soon have you out of it and feeling fine without your discovering her intentions at all. She has a rare sense of humor and uses it to make herself and others happier. And now we understand that she is adding to her list of accomplishments down at the Home Ec House. Here’s for larger and tougher pancakes, “Sturtie”!

DOROTHY ELEANOR THOMAS
Flemington, New Jersey
KKI
Flemington High School
Class Baseball Team (1, 2, 3); All-Midd Baseball (1); Biology Club (3); Spanish Club (3); Junior Tea Committee (3).

“Glad am I to be alive.”

Now just say the magic word Biology. See those two heads pop up—“Dottie’s” and Miriam’s. So the two class “Bug” fiends are together—here as well as in the Lab. Well, it’s always good company when scientists (and such good looking ones, too) get together. But “Dottie” does do other things—just look for her at a dance or go out on the diamond some fine spring morning and watch her swat the ball around. We have begun to wonder quite seriously lately if she will not be using the fly swatter just as vigorously some day soon, when these college days are o’er.
Miriam Adeline Turner

"Precious"

Dramatic Club (1, 2, 3); French Club (1, 2); Women's Debating Club (1, 2, 3); Women's Varsity Debating Team (2); Class Baseball (1, 2); Class Volley Ball Team (1); Hiking Club (1, 2); Basketball (2); Biology Club (3); Choir (3).

"She, with bright eye and soul-bewitching voice Wins us to smile, inspires us to rejoice."

"Here comes Precious, sweetest little thing"—that's Miriam. Of course you know her—coils and coils of golden locks, rosy cheeks, twinkling blue eyes, and an ever-ready, contagious giggle. Who would ever guess that a girl of this description would be a "Bug" fiend; however, it is so. And not only that, but the Debating Team just could not do without her.

Anne Hester Van Kesteren

"Anne"

Rochester, New York

Middlebury (Vt.) High School

German Club (1).

"An innate, quiet dignity, alike removed from boldness and from fear."

Anne is a priceless friend, but few know this because she does not live on the hill; yet we do realize that she always has a cheery smile and that her eyes are always bright and friendly whether she has been delayed at the Inn or has not completed her assignment. Underneath this optimistic exterior there is a girl whose earnestness and loyalty inspire our admiration. She is as steadfast and true as her Dutch name. Biology, Chemistry, and Physics take up a good bit of her time—yes, we all agree that she will make a fine assistant for Some One some day.
HELEN MARION WALCOTT

KKΓ

Leominster High School

Associate Business Manager, Handbook (2); Treasurer, Y. W. C. A. (3); Dramatic Club (3); English Club (3); Contributing Editor, Saxonian (3); Publicity Committee, Junior Week (3).

"Since I have cause and will and strength and means."

Here is our little Y. W. girl. Y. W. meetings and conventions are her forte. She seems to have literary interests also, judging from her activities—and her aptitude for puns. Many a time have we ducked her for an unusually mischievous—and pertinent—play on words. Demure and apparently a model of quietness and propriety on this side of the mountains, who would ever think that "Wallie" would disport herself so gaily on the other side? Yes, "Wallie," we are thinking of those Dartmouth Carnivals.

AGNES NOBLE WENTWORTH

"Wit and humor belong to genius alone."

Who's that coming toward us with that energetic walk, on her way to class or to some activity? Why, none other than our "Aggie." She is most pleasant company, and life will never be monotonous when "Aggie" is around, for her laughter and wit often lighten our troubles. She is the kind of a person who is always present at fun-gatherings, but she never has unprepared lessons, and what wouldn't we give to pull some of her marks?

"I would help others, out of a fellow feeling."

"I haven't a thing planned!" So says "Nilly" every time, but the evenings are enjoyable just the same. Her special task on this earth seems to be planning entertainments—usually for the German Club—and she does it well. All hail to the girl who put "chocolate stiffness" on the menu at Joe's! But we think the nicest thing about her is the way she always understands and sympathizes when you tell her about your woes. She will cheer you up in no time.

Athletics
HE Athletic Council consists of five faculty members, five upper-classmen, and the managers of the athletic teams, ex-officio. The Council passes on all budgets, schedules and expenditures of the various athletic departments, and approves all elections to athletic offices. It issues insignia to the several sports. Recommendations from the Council are presented to the Undergraduate Association at its regular meetings.

Summary of the Season

The past season was not a success and yet we are proud of the team which has fought so gamely against odds that have never to our knowledge been surmounted by any college in the country.

Coach Benjamin Beck and Assistant Coach Roy Clogston were faced with a difficult situation when they arrived here this fall. Theirs was the arduous task of training the veterans of the unsuccessful season of the previous year, naturally lacking in the confidence that a winning team must have, backed by a handful of freshmen and green upper classmen, in the intricacies of a new system. It is improbable to conceive any college turning out a winning squad under similar changes without a year of preparation.

Nevertheless the team has won the respect of the student body and of every opponent played. Indomitable spirit made them come back time after time when the score was top heavy against them. In the Amherst game when twenty points behind, in the last quarter exhausted by the heat, they marched 60 yards for a touchdown. It was beautiful to watch. The next week on another sultry afternoon, Middlebury with no reserves fought two Williams teams to a standstill for the entire first half. Yes, Williams could gain, but when they came near that last marker, the resemblance of our club to a Black Panther was striking.

In the last quarter of the Springfield game the grit that marked their play all season netted a touchdown when 13 points behind with a drive from midfield. In six minutes Norwich scored twice with a long run and a forward pass, enough to take the heart out of any team. Yet they were kept on the defensive from then to the final whistle by a desperately fighting Panther, that made first down after first down, scoring once and within an ace of scoring on three other attacks.

As usual the Panther was dogged with injuries throughout the season, Guarnaccia, Johnson, Willis, Whitman, Keenan, MacNary, Gruggel, Jacobs, and Schmidt being incapacitated at some time or other.

Fundamentally the reason for the team’s poor showing, of one win and a tie, with Hamilton and Vermont respectively, was the lack of goal line punch. This can be attributed to the need for a more complete mastery of the system used. It is the smoothly working club that can concentrate its power at the goal line. Although making one touchdown and a safety to win the Hamilton game (revenge of last year’s mix-up) the Blue had several other chances to score. Then against Tufts, possibly the best team played, Middlebury worked into scoring position twice, enough to tie if not to win the game, only to be checked without crossing the goal. Similarly, in the other games played including that with Vermont, where the Panther scored once out of three possible chances.

Although we would like to mention the good points of all the teammates, we will stick to the storybook custom of mentioning the backfield stars, both, we are proud to say, being members of the class of 1930, Captain-Elect Sammy Guarnaccia and Johnny Johnson—Sammy for his ground gaining ability and Johnny for his steady all round play that is so vital to the team. With these two in the backfield and an experienced man in every position, except an end, things look a lot brighter for the coming season.
MIDDLEBURY 7—AMHERST 19
Amherst, Mass., September 29, 1928

The first game of the season started off well with one of Coach Beck's specialties, an onside kick that was caught on the run by Johnson who side-stepped his way to the 27-yard line before he was downed. The Panther then proceeded to make its first down on the 10-yard line, but the attack failed on the 4-yard stripe with an uncompleted forward pass.

At the end of the period, Amherst had worked their way past the center of the field by long end sweeps, then heaved a long forward for the first score.

In the second period Amherst unleashed a running attack plus another pass, making a count of 13 to 0 at the close of the half.

After Amherst had made their third and last touchdown late in the third, Middlebury got going with a pretty drive from her own 46-yard line, Smith carrying it over.

MIDDLEBURY 0—WILLIAMS 20
Williamstown, Mass., October 6, 1928

Capt.-Elect Sam Guarnaccia

On the following Saturday Williams, with a pretty forward passing attack, scored three times in the second half, twice in the third quarter and once in the fourth. In the first half Williams was held to no score, although they had the better of it in the amount of ground gained. In the third period a pass put the ball on Middlebury's 12-yard line followed by four running plays resulting in the first tally. In the same period Williams completed a long pass from the 40-yard line from Howe to Langmaid for the second score: Putman kicked the goal. The end of the excitement came when Howe threw another long pass to Langmaid who was downed on the 12-yard line and then took it over in four line bucks.

McLeod Starting in a 20-Yard Gain Around End
On October 13, the team lost the first of the games it should have won, if games were decided by a comparison of the yardage gained. The first half was uneventful, both teams engaging in a punting duel without much effect. Late in the third quarter, Middlebury was penalized half the distance to the goal for unnecessary roughness and, after holding for three downs, lost the game when a pass was hurled over the goal line. From then to the end Middlebury showed a splendid running attack, but lost the ball on downs whenever they came within the 10-yard stripe.

Springfield's victory over the Panther was wholly made possible because of breaks. Their first score came as the result of a fumble which put Middlebury back on her goal line. The attempted kick-out was not successful and Springfield took it over the line early in the second period. The second score of the game came from an intercepted pass on the home team's 35-yard stripe.

Middlebury, with the score 13 to 0 against them, started one of their belated drives which ended in a touchdown early in the fourth quarter. It is interesting to note that Middlebury made seven first downs to four for Springfield.

A laxity in the defence during the first six minutes of play lost this game and any chance for a state title, when the Horsemen completed two long passes and an end run for two touchdowns. But from the middle of the first quarter to the final whistle, the Panther held the upper hand. Early in the second period Johnson in-intercepted a pass and took it to the 17-yard line before being tackled, Willis cut through for 15 yards and Guarnaccia took it over for Middlebury's only tally. Several times in the last half the Panther came within the 20-yard marker, but was unable to take it over.

MIDDLEBURY 8—HAMILTON 0
Middlebury, November 3, 1928

Much interest was aroused by the game, as it was looked upon as a proving ground for last year's no-decision affair. The outcome seemed rather doubtful for Middlebury in the first few minutes, when a fumble gave the New Yorkers the ball on Middlebury's 6-yard line. However, the Blue held for downs and the result of the fray was never again to be feared. In the third period Middlebury carried the ball to the opponent's territory, then lost it on the Hamilton goal line. Huntington broke through on the next play and blocked the attempted kick which rolled behind the goal where it was downed for a safety by a Hamilton back, netting the Panther two points. Again the ball was carried to the Hamilton goal only to be lost on downs. But after the kick-out another of the class of 1930 broke into the limelight. Bob McLeod, who played a splendid game at half all season, reversed his field on an off-tackle slash and ran twenty yards for a touchdown.

Throughout the game Middlebury was in control of the situation, making the struggle more one-sided than the score indicates.

MIDDLEBURY 0—TUFTS 12
Medford, Mass., November 10, 1928

Traveling to Boston the next week-end, the Blue and White met a tartar in Tufts, one of the best small college teams in the country. Although Middlebury carried the ball to the 10-yard marker twice during the game, once in the first and once in the last quarter, Tufts had the edge, scoring once in the first and again in the second.
Reports favored Middlebury in this the 83d meeting of the two rivals on the gridiron, but they had not taken into account the strenuous training and preparation Vermont went through to be ready for this game and there were two determined teams on the field that day.

The Catamount started the excitement with a drive from midfield early in the first period, forcing the Panther to the goal line. It looked as though it would be a repetition of the Norwich game, but at the crucial moment, one foot from the goal, the Blue stiffened and took the ball on downs.

The rest of the first half was taken up with attempted attacks that had little success on either side, Middlebury having the edge.

The Panther came back in the second half with a pretty forward from Johnson to Guarnaccia who stiff-armed his way to the 13-yard line before he was downed. Things looked bright for the Blue, but Vermont held on their goal line. The Panther, however, was not to be denied and a few minutes later the same Sammy Guarnaccia circled left end for a touchdown. The try for goal failed, giving Middlebury a six-point lead.

Middlebury’s margin for victory did not last long when Vermont caught Middlebury’s short kick and marched to the 20-yard line. The Panther again braced for three downs, but saw the victory slip out of their hands when Vermont completed a pass over the goal line. Their try for goal was smothered under an avalanche of blue.

During the last quarter, hope for victory again spread through the Middlebury cheering section, when a Vermont pass was interrupted by Willis on Vermont’s 40-yard line. The Panther made a valiant attempt, but lost the ball on the 10-yard line through a fumble, Vermont recovering and kicking out of danger.

The game ended soon after, and the togs are put away for another season, but the memories of this sport of sports linger throughout the year until another season dims the previous one with its thrilling moments.

Summary of the Season

WITH only Captain Hasseltine missing from the previous season, the baseball team under the guidance of Coach Klevenow looked forward to a season which would be more successful than events proved it to be. The nine started off well, and up until Junior Week was undefeated, but the subsequent games saw only one victory recorded for the Blue until the Williams game here on June 1. The season ended with the Middlebury record bearing a total of six victories and seven defeats, and one tie. It was found necessary to cancel four games because of inclement weather.

The season opened with an away game in which the Clarkson nine went down for its first defeat. The St. Lawrence game, scheduled for the following day, was cancelled because of a muddy field. Clarkson lost to Middlebury again on Porter Field a week later and the nine repeated its performance the next day by a victory over St. Michael's here. Another victory over St. Michael's at Winooski a few days later afforded the ball players their last taste of victory for several weeks, for the next section of the schedule saw Middlebury defeated twice by Vermont, and once each by Norwich, Harvard, Tufts, and Springfield. A victory over Clark University was the only bright spot in this period. The Rhode Island State, Springfield, and M. A. C. games were cancelled. The season closed with a tie game with Norwich and a victory over Williams, only to be followed by a defeat by St. Lawrence.
MIDDLEBURY 9—CLARKSON 5
Madrid, N. Y., April 27, 1928

The team began its season with a game played at Madrid, because the Clarkson diamond was not yet in playing condition. Pounding the offerings of Pleeger, the Clarkson pitcher, for fourteen hits and the fielding of the team were the high spots in this game. Clarkson opened the scoring in the second inning, when Towner was advanced around the bases by a sacrifice and Wheeler's double. The Panthers came back in the next inning to take away the lead when Willis singled and advanced to second on Bossert's sacrifice. Hasseltine grounded out, and Willis scored on Anderson's single. Anderson stole second, and scored on March's double. Clarkson took the lead in the latter part of the same inning on hits by Bevilicqua, Whiting and Wheeler, but Middlebury tied things up in the fourth when Sorensen doubled and was scored by Hasseltine's single to left field. The ninth opened with the score knotted at 5-5. Middlebury came through to win, when, with two out, Collins and March got on second and third and were scored by Kelley's single. Humeston tripled next, scoring Kelley, and added a run himself on a single by Sorensen. Clarkson was retired in short order during her half of the inning, and the game ended. Bossert, who started on the mound for Middlebury, was replaced in the fifth inning by Simmons, who allowed his opponents but one hit during the remainder of the game.

MIDDLEBURY 12—CLARKSON 1
Porter Field, May 4, 1928

The last inning rally of the preceding week's game proved not to be a fluke when the Middlebury club repeated their victory in a more decisive fashion on their home field. Cook and Kingston showed up well in the pitcher's box for Middlebury, keeping the hits allowed well scattered. The Blue scored three times in the first inning, and from that time on nothing could stop them. Four more runs in the third inning were followed by a cluster of five runs scored in the fourth. In the final inning, the visitors managed to push one run across the plate, thus preventing a shut-out. At bat, Collins and Franzoni were outstanding with three hits each.

MIDDLEBURY 5—ST. MICHAEL'S 3
Porter Field, May 5, 1928

The team won its second victory in two days on the home field in an exceedingly close game featured by Captain Whittmore's striking out eleven men. St. Michael's started the scoring when Woods singled to left, stole second, and came home on a single to right by O'Connor. Middlebury then picked up the scoring in the same inning, when Hasseltine got to first, stole second, and scored easily when March tripled to right. The inning ended without further scoring. In the next inning, Humeston, getting a base on balls, stole second, and scored on Willis' fly to right, which was muffed by Gorman. Willis came in from third on Hasseltine's single and the inning closed. St. Michael's chalked up two more runs when Klein and O'Connor, aided by the close left and right field fences, connected for home runs in the third and fourth innings, respectively. Middlebury broke the tie in the fifth when Collins was walked, stole second, and came home on March's single. The final run came in the seventh inning when Hasseltine was passed to first, stole second, and scored on a double to right by Anderson. The pitching of the opposing moundsman, Cross, was of the highest order, and at this point Middlebury's baseball hopes looked exceedingly bright.

MIDDLEBURY 9—ST. MICHAEL'S 4
Winooski, Vt., May 7, 1928
The Panther hopes continued in the ascendancy when they won their fourth consecutive game two days later at St. Michael's field. The long game was featured by the Middlebury hitting, but the box scores of both teams were marred by frequent errors. Simmons started in the box for Middlebury, and was relieved in the fourth by Cook, who finished the game, pitching great ball, besides smashing out a couple of two-baggers. Middlebury began the scoring in the first inning when Hasseltine was advanced to third by his own two-base hit and a sacrifice by Anderson; he scored a few seconds later on March's single. In the second, Franzoni, reaching first after being hit by a pitched ball, stole second, and scored when Humeston singled to left. In the fourth, errors and wild throws by the Blue allowed St. Michael's four runs. However, in the sixth, well-placed and timed hits by Middlebury enabled them to score Franzoni and Willis, tying the score at four-all. Neither side was able to break the deadlock, and the situation remained unchanged until, with two down, in the eleventh, the fireworks began. March reached first on an error, and was advanced to third on a double by Franzoni. Two walks by the St. Michael's pitcher put Humeston and Sorensen on first and second and forced March home. A wild throw by the opposing catcher, a single by Willis, and another wild throw scored Franzoni, Humeston, and Willis in quick succession. The St. Michael's team was retired in short order after the Blue's five-run rally, and the game was over.

VERMONT 7—MIDDLEBURY 6
Porter Field, May 10, 1928
With four successive victories behind them, the nine entered the Junior Week games with promising prospects for a successful campaign. But in the week's first game, they ran into a contest which proved to be typical of what was to follow during the rest of the schedule—games that were always close, but in which Middlebury found herself on the short end of the score. Middlebury led for five innings, and went into the fatal sixth with the score standing at 4-2; but before the inning was over the Green had pushed five runs over the plate and, although Middlebury came back with two counters in her half of the inning and had men on bases in the seventh, eighth and ninth, no more scored, and Vermont left with a victory registered over the Panther. Middlebury outhit the Catamount and had a larger percentage of extra base hits, but the hits were not put together to make scores. Whittemore, on the mound, was rather erratic, and was spectacularly aided by Franzoni's double play unassisted in the third inning. The upstaters started the first inning by scoring two runs, and Middlebury retaliated by scoring once in the same inning and crossing the plate twice in the second. When another run came home in the fifth inning, things looked very rosy for the home team. In the sixth came the bad news; the Vermont players found Whittemore and a barrage of singles and a double and triple resulted in five runs for Vermont. In the last half of the inning, Middlebury came back to score two runs and for a time it appeared as though the game might still be snatched from the fire, but with the tying run on third and the winning run on first, Whittemore struck out to end the inning. From that point on, neither side scored, but the damage had been done, and despite their best efforts Middlebury could not push across the tying run.

NORWICH 3—MIDDLEBURY 1

Porter Field, May 11, 1928

The following day, in an even closer game, the nine had its second taste of defeat, when they went down before the Norwich aggregation. The Norwich team came to Middlebury with a reputation as hard hitters; however, the team did not hit behind Cook's pitching, and a Norwich home run proved to be the deciding margin. The first two innings were uneventful, and Norwich opened up in the third, combining an error, a stolen base, and a single, scoring one run. Middlebury went out in order in her half of the inning, but in the next inning, Humeston hit a clean home run, and tied the score at one apiece. With the score locked and the pitchers going well, there was little excitement for a few innings, until in the eighth, with a man on first, Coane connected for a home run, and, as in the game of the preceding day, one inning decided the whole business. Although the Blue had her scoring opportunities, she failed to take advantage of them and the hits came at the wrong times for scoring.

HARVARD 18—MIDDLEBURY 0

Cambridge, Mass., May 15, 1928

The first game of the New England trip was a hard blow to the Blue, when Harvard hit four Panther hurlers hard, and the Crimson moundsmen, Whitmore, held Middlebury to four hits. Captain Whittemore started the game, but was pounded for eight runs in two innings, and was replaced by Hingston. Hingston managed to hold the Harvard team to two runs in five innings. Gollnick batted for Hingston in the eighth, and Simmons and Bossert pitched the last of the game and were hit for two runs each by the Cantabs. Little can be said of the contest, except that Middlebury was up against a far superior team, and did not find herself equal to the affair.

TUFTS 5—MIDDLEBURY 1

Medford, Mass., May 16, 1928

Playing again in the vicinity of Boston on the following day, the ball players dropped another game by a score of 5-1 to the strong Tufts team. Cook pitched a good game and deserved to win, but once again the team failed to hit in the pinches, and although they made eight hits to Tufts’ six, could not push more than one tally across the plate. The Blue scored first when Franzoni, hit by one of Bowker’s throws, stole second, and crossed the home base when Willis doubled. This run came in the second inning and ended Middlebury’s scoring for the day. A single, base on balls, and a double gave the Jumbos two runs in the third inning. A force-out, stolen base, and a single resulted in another counter in the fourth. The final two runs came in the eighth inning on a two-bagger, a Middlebury error, and two sacrifices. Middlebury was a threat to the home team throughout and kept the game interesting, but could not seem to hit when hits meant runs.

MIDDLEBURY 9—CLARK 5

Worcester, Mass., May 17, 1928

In the last game of the trip, playing Clark, the Blue nine came through to beat the university team, 9-4. Simmons relieved Hingston in the pitcher’s box in the fourth inning and only allowed three hits and one run for the rest of the game. Clark opened the scoring the very first inning, landing on Hingston for three hits and a base on balls for a total of two runs. Another run was collected in the third inning, on a double which scored a man who had previously been walked. Simmons went to the mound in the next inning and halted the attack so that it was not until the eighth that Clark scored again. The Panther was held scoreless until the fifth inning, but then the storm broke. Collins singled, stole second and came home on a single by Willis; Hasseltine’s single a few minutes later scored Willis who had managed to steal third. Hasseltine stole second, and got home on a single by Sorensen. Doubles by Jacobs and Franzoni and a single by Collins brought in two more scores in the next inning. In the eighth, Middlebury finished up by scoring four more on singles by March and Collins, a triple by Franzoni, and a homer by Willis. Clark made their other run in their half of the inning, and the game ended with no further scoring.
SPRINGFIELD 7—MIDDLEBURY 2
Porter Field, May 24, 1928

With the cancellation of the last two games of the New England trip against Rhode Island State and Springfield, the team returned and was seen at home in its next game, playing under conditions which almost necessitated calling off the second scheduled contest with Springfield. Cook pitched for Middlebury until the seventh, when he was relieved by Whitemore. In the third inning, Willis led off with a single, took second on a sacrifice by Cook, and scored the first run of the game on Anderson's single. In the fourth inning, another Blue tally came in when Sorensen made a single, Humeston was walked, and March beat out a bunt to first base. Sorensen scored on Jacobs' sacrifice. This ended Middlebury's scoring, and the remainder of the game was Springfield's. The Bay Staters scored once in the fifth inning, once in the sixth, three times in the seventh, and twice in the ninth inning.

VERMONT 7—MIDDLEBURY 5
Burlington, Vt., May 28, 1928

With the weather man the cause of the cancellation of still another game, that scheduled for May 25 on Porter Field with M. A. C., the next game played was the second Vermont game. Coach Hessler took over the team two days before this game, following the departure of Coach Klevenow for business reasons. Vermont took a three-inning baseball holiday at the opening of the game, and piled up seven runs, and although the Panthers fought hard and managed to score five before the end of the game, they were forced to accept their second defeat by the Burlington college. In the fatal first three innings, the Catamounts got six hits from Hingston, whose infield made six errors in the same innings. The Vermonters scored one in the first inning, four in the second, and three in the third. Simmons entered the box in the fourth frame, and held his opponents nicely in hand for the remainder of the game. The Blue got three runs back in the fourth, on a double by Anderson and a home run by Humeston. His run was followed by Sorensen's, who got a base on balls and scored on an error and a fielder's choice. Another run came over in the seventh when Sorensen led off with a single, went to third on an error, and crossed the plate on Franzoni's single. The last tally was chalked up in the eighth. Anderson led off with a double, went to second on a fielder's choice, made third on another infield out, and came in on a wild pitch by the Vermont pitcher Schoppe.
MIDDLEBURY 1—NORWICH 1
Northfield, Vt, May 30, 1928

Rain interrupted an interesting pitcher’s battle on Memorial Day, for Cook and Waining were both going well when it started to pour at the end of the sixth inning, necessitating calling the game. Middlebury had managed to connect with only two of Waining’s southpaw throws, but had turned the two hits into a run. Norwich had made five hits, but had scored only on an error. Middlebury drew first blood by scoring in the opening inning. Franzoni drew a free ticket to first, and went to second on a sacrifice by Hasseltine. A long high fly of Humeston’s which was misjudged by the Norwich fielder brought Franzoni home for the first run of the game. During the Norwich half of the inning, it appeared for a few minutes as though Cook was in trouble, but he pulled himself out of the hole only to get into another in the next inning, when Norwich scored her run. After the second inning, both pitchers worked very smoothly, and when it looked as though the game might go to extra innings, the downpour in the sixth ended all speculation as to the outcome.

MIDDLEBURY 2—WILLIAMS 1
Porter Field, June 1, 1928

Playing the best baseball they had shown all season, the Middlebury nine backed Captain Whittemore to defeat Williams. Whittemore let Williams down with five hits and one run, while the Panther club managed to get seven hits from Singemaster, the Purple moundsman. Humeston hit a triple in the first inning, and scored on Sorensen’s sacrifice, and for a number of innings it seemed as though the lone marker might be enough to win the game. The seventh inning ruined any hopes of a shut-out, however, when Tyson, the visiting first baseman, singled and got to third on Singemaster’s sacrifice. Willis let one of Whittemore’s low ones get away from him, and Tyson came in to tie the score. Entering the last half of the ninth inning, prospects of an extra-inning game were spoiled when Jacobs got his second double of the game and scored on Willis’ single, and the game ended.

ST. LAWRENCE 5—MIDDLEBURY 1
Porter Field, June 15, 1928

The last game of the season resulted in a defeat by a strong St. Lawrence club. The Cantonites started the scoring at the very beginning of the game, when they got one run across in the first and second innings each. They scored again in the fourth, and, in the seventh, pounded Simmons for two more tallies. Whittemore replaced Simmons at this point, and neither side scored further during the remainder of the game. Middlebury’s lone run came in the seventh inning when Willis got a triple and was advanced home on a sacrifice.

Summary of the Season

Thirteen victories out of sixteen starts is the record of Middlebury's championship basketball team for the season of 1928-29. Coach Beck deserves much credit for the results he has shown in his first year as basketball mentor, taking the undoubtedly fine material of the previous season and welding it into the finest team Middlebury has ever had the good fortune to have representing her.

The season was opened by a trip through New York and Pennsylvania, the team winning three out of the four games played, losing to West Point by a close score and beating R. P. I., Haverford and Upsala. This in itself was a remarkable showing, considering the short time the squad had in which to master the intricate system of defense used by Coach Beck.

The first home game, Lowell Textile, was a comparatively easy one, but the Blue and White defense was far from the impenetrable wall it was later to become.

The Panther next took a journey to Boston where it lost in a close contest to the Crimson, the Blue seeming to have the better of it until a Crimson guard tossed three in from the center of the long court. In the second and last game of the trip the Brown Bear was easily subdued in spite of a string of substitutions from the beginning to the final whistle.

Then came three state games in rapid succession, St. Michael's giving little trouble and showing nothing of the ability they later exhibited on their own court. Norwich was defeated the Saturday following examinations, on the rather slippery floor of the Rutland Armory.

One week from that day, Vermont was beaten by Middlebury for the first time in over twelve years on her own court. The outcome seemed rather doubtful at the half, with Vermont leading by five points, but soon after the second half got under way the long tide came in, making victory more sweet because of its delay.

The third and last defeat the team experienced came when the smooth working Springfield club visited Middlebury. The Blue led at the half but was outplayed in the second. This is the only team that had the edge on the Middlebury team all year and are without a doubt one of the best clubs in the country.

From this point in the schedule to the end, the Panther’s offense and defense worked like a charm, defeating all the state teams and Dartmouth, the runners up for the Intercollegiate Basketball Championship, who a week after the defeat at the hands of Middlebury, defeated Pennsylvania, the winners of the league.

Only five men made their letters this year, a team that can be likened to the Iron-men of the Brown football team of three years ago. These five include three from the class of 1930: Casey who did much to hold down the score of the opponents and had an enviable faculty of scoring when points were most needed; Johnson, as consistent a point-getter as we had on the team, being high-point man for the season and tenth highest in the East; and Humeston, by far the best pivot man ever developed at Middlebury. Upon him both the attack and defense hinged.

Sorensen and Capt. Spooner, the two remaining players, are going to be missed next year, Sorensen for his scoring ability and Spooner for his guarding. But with the three men of 1930 and a group of good floor men in the present Freshmen and Sophomore classes, the prospects for another Championship team are unusually promising.

MIDDLEBURY 41—R. P. I. 22
Troy, N. Y., December 14, 1928

Opening the season with the engineers at Troy, the Blue and White proceeded to run away with the game, once they got started. At half time the score stood 20 to 8 and to this they added 21 more before the game ended. Johnson and Sorensen led the scoring for the Blue with 13 and 9 respectively.

WEST POINT 30—MIDDLEBURY 22
West Point, N. Y., December 15, 1928

Saturday at West Point, Middlebury battled the Cadets in a game in which the Pointers seemed to have had the breaks. After trailing 16 to 1 at one time during the first period, the Panthers fought tooth and nail to add to their score point after point, to have the half end 20 to 16 against them.

With the opening of the second half the Blue and White netted two baskets in quick succession while the Army sunk one foul shot. From this point on, shot after shot rolled around the hoop to drop out, preventing Middlebury from taking the lead. Several fouls called on Middlebury at the end of the game, which the Army converted into points, decided the contest. Humeston led the scoring with 9 points.
After a day’s lay-off the team traveled to Philadelphia, where they romped through Haverford College to the tune of 39 to 24. In the opening minutes, baskets by Johnson, Humeston, and Casey gave the Panther an early lead which they held throughout the game.

In the final game of the trip Middlebury managed to squeeze out a one-point victory over Hank Potter’s Upsala five at East Orange. The score was not close until four of the five regulars were put out of the game on personal fouls. Sorensen was high scorer for Middlebury with 11 points.

Back from the holidays, the Panther five, looking a little rusty because of their lay off, finally took over the Textile five after trailing at half time 14 to 8. Middlebury now had a string of four victories out of five starts.

The Blue and White’s splendid quintet took a trip to Boston that week-end and lost to the Crimson after juggling the lead back and forth until late in the last period when the combination of losing Humeston on personal fouls and three long shots by a Crimson guard from the center of the court were too much for the Panther.

Traveling to Providence the next day for the Brown game, the Blue Basketeers worked to perfection to defeat the Bear by the decisive score of 34 to 18. Brown used many substitutes to no avail and Coach Beck was able to send his regulars to the showers towards the end of the game.

The Blue ran away from the Purple in the contest on our floor just one week after the Brown game, the Panther playing rings around the visitors, allowing the Middlebury subs to finish the game. The contest was about the roughest seen on the home court all season, threatening at one time to be a free-for-all. Sorensen led in the scoring with 12 points.

MIDDLETOWN 38—NORWICH 23
Rutland, Vt., February 2, 1929

The slippery floor at the armory threatened for a while to make a close game, although Middlebury was clearly the superior, in the second of the state contests. But as soon as the Blue and White aggregation became used to skating for the basket instead of their usual fast cutting, the game was easily the Panther's.

MIDDLETOWN 19—VERMONT 15
Burlington, Vt., February 9, 1929

On the following Saturday the Panther traveled to Burlington and took over a scrapping Catamount. This was the closest guarding game that Middlebury played, allowing Vermont but two baskets the whole game, Middlebury also having difficulty in finding the hoop although having plenty of comparatively easy shots. The first half was very slow and ended with the Green at the large end of the 13 to 8 count. The Blue quintet came back in the second half, holding the Green and Gold team scoreless as far as baskets were concerned, and tallying enough themselves to finish 4 points in the lead. The only exciting moment came when Humeston went out on fouls and Vermont attempted a rally with little success. The Panther has broken the jinx that hovered over the Vermont gym for so many years and we look for a repeat next season to keep that jinx in hiding.

SPRINGFIELD 33—MIDDLETOWN 22
Middlebury, February 16, 1929

In the fastest game seen on the Middlebury court in a long time, Springfield came through at the long end of the scoring after trailing at half time 15 to 16. The Panther did not make good their usual percentage of shots which could partially be attributed to the inaction between the Vermont and Springfield games. But the visitors undoubtedly had the better team, being one of the best in the country. Johnson led in the scoring for the Blue.

MIDDLETOWN 33—NORWICH 30
Northfield, Vt., February 19, 1929

Trekking to Northfield on Friday the Panther had trouble subduing the Cadets on their small court with low ceiling. The game was marred by rough playing without much real basketball, Johnny again leading the scoring with seven baskets. This win made it necessary to take but one of the remaining two state games in order to have the title safely tucked away.
MIDDLEBURY 28—DARTMOUTH 23
Hanover, N. H., February 20, 1929

The crowning achievement of the season came on the night following the Norwich game when the Blue and White defeated the Green of Dartmouth, one of the best teams in the country and runners up for the Intercollegiate Basketball Title.

This was not a fluke on a court strange to the Green quintet but a clean-cut victory on the Green's own playground. Middlebury led most of the game and held to six baskets the usually heavily scoring aggregation. Too much credit cannot be given to this team of ours and to the coach that showed them their impenetrable defense.

MIDDLEBURY 42—ALBANY LAW 25
Middlebury, February 22, 1929

On the next to the last home game of the season, Middlebury handily upset the Albany Law five 42 to 25. As a contest it was not much to watch, but the supporters of the Blue and White got a kick out of their team's smooth play. From the opening whistle the game developed into a runaway with Casey leading the scoring with 11 points. It was merely a stiff practice for the coming final state games.

MIDDLEBURY 48—VERMONT 31
Middlebury, February 26, 1929

In the last home game of the season the Panther easily took over a hard-fighting Catamount to the tune of 48 to 31 and fastened its claws in the State Basketball Title for the first time since 1918.

It was a free scoring contest which was decidedly more interesting to watch than the closer game of Vermont. The visitors led at the beginning of the game 7 to 3, but the home team soon equaled this and led at the half 21 to 13.

The second half was a repetition of the first which was the Panther's idea of the proper way to spend an evening at home.

Dick Humeston was high-point man with 16 points.

MIDDLEBURY 36—ST. MICHAEL'S 35
Winooski, Vt., March 1, 1929

The most thrilling game of the season ended the state series in fitting manner when one of the outstanding teams in New England met St. Michael's on their home court. The first half was a continuous flurry with the home team holding a lead of 10 points at half time. Johnson brought the score up even with six baskets in a row, one of the most unusual basket-tossing exhibitions seen in this neck of the woods. From then to the final whistle the lead shifted from one team to the other, when the score was tied at 32-all at the final gun. With Johnson and Spooner out on personals it looked as if Middlebury's long string of victories might be broken when the home team made a basket in the overtime period, but Middlebury evened things up with a pretty long shot by Willis. Casey then came through with what proved to be the winning basket as St. Michael's only succeeded in sinking one foul before the end of the session.

This closed the most successful season a Middlebury basketball team ever had.

Summary of the Season

ALTHOUGH nine letter men of the 1927 track team were lost to Coach Brown through graduation, he succeeded in producing an undefeated aggregation for 1928, among whom were two athletes who broke the Middlebury records for their events. Due to poor weather, the first scheduled meet, with Northeastern, was cancelled. The added hours of practice which this gave the squad before their first meet were welcomed. The good use to which the Blue team put them was evidenced when St. Lawrence was defeated by an overwhelming score in the first meet. R. P. I. was the next team to go down before Middlebury, and the season was finished by a victory in the triangular State Meet.

At the opening of the season, Coach Brown was faced with the necessity of filling the shoes of Captain Roberts, Eddy, Cort, and Davis in the field events; Whiting, Stoughton, and Farnum in the middle distances; Adams in the sprints; and Fales in the hurdles. How well he succeeded is seen in the overwhelming scores by which the track team won all of its meets.

MIDDLEBURY 87 1/2—ST. LAWRENCE 47 1/2
Canton, N. Y., May 5, 1928

In the opening meet, the team gave some promise of what was to follow during the rest of the season by its one-sided victory, and the capabilities of several newcomers were revealed in their first competition as representatives of Middlebury: Dalton, Guarnaccia, Gruggel, Sherman, and Thayer.

The track team wound up the Junior Week athletic program with another landslide, in a meet which made them the favorites to win the state title. Two records fell in this meet, when Bagley, placing second in the high jump, set a new college standard of five feet, eleven and a quarter inches, and Williams won the pole vault with a height of ten feet, ten and eleven-sixteenths inches.

GREEN MOUNTAIN CONFERENCE MEET
Porter Field, May 26, 1929

Middlebury repeated its performance of the previous year in the state meet, winning from Vermont and Norwich on a soggy, slow track. The score, Middlebury, 64 1/2; Vermont, 47 1/2; Norwich, 23 1/2 does not indicate how closely contested was the battle between Vermont and the Blue team. Bagley again broke the college record in the high jump, with a leap of five feet, ten and five-eighths inches. This was also a new Conference record. The poor condition of the field prevented any other standards from falling, as had been expected.

Hammer Throw: Won by Mackey (V.); second, Fisher (N.); third, Schmidt (M.). Distance: 125 ft.
Although the cross-country team only broke even in total meets won and lost during the season, the one-sided score by which Vermont was defeated in the season’s finale more than made up for the loss of the Williams and R. P. I. meets.

The harriers’ season opened with a meet with Williams here. The Purple runners avenged their defeat of two years ago on the Middlebury course by turning in a 35-20 victory. The second defeat of the season was suffered the following week at the hands of the Rensselaer squad, who won by a 40-15 score on their own course. The team redeemed itself a week later when the visitors from St. Stephen's were beaten by a 34-21 score, Captain Butler establishing a new course record of 33 minutes, 13 seconds. The season closed with the team's victory over Vermont by one of the most overwhelming scores in recent years. Captain Butler and Captain-Elect Dalton tied for first place as the first points in the 36-19 score.

On the same day, the varsity so decisively won over the Green harriers, the Freshmen team just managed to squeeze out a victory over the second half of the varsity six-mile course by a score of 28-27. Inasmuch as most of the Freshmen were running in their first cross-country meet, the winning time of 16 minutes, 16 seconds was a creditable showing. The outstanding runners in the Freshmen meet were Harwood and Hall.

Golf

Although the late spring did not permit adequate practice last season, an attempt was made to inaugurate golf as a varsity sport at Middlebury. Organization was begun slowly and only two matches were secured, both with Norwich. In the first of these, played on May 24 at the Burlington Country Club, Norwich was victorious by a score of 5-4. Middlebury won the return match on May 29, however, 7-2. Even in the short time that the team existed, a decided improvement in the quality of play was noticed, and a more extensive schedule is planned for this season. Men playing on the regular team will also be awarded letters. The men who played in these contests were Captain Weston, '29, Tibone, '30, Riccio, '29, Webber, '29, Owen, '29, and Edy, '30.
Middlebury upheld her reputation for successful hockey teams when the Blue sextet turned in a card of seven victories and three defeats at the end of the season. As usual, the team was hampered in the early part of the year by poor ice, and Coach Clogston, handling the team for the first time, was further handicapped by the loss of Huntington, who was taken ill with pneumonia. However, several Freshmen strengthened the team after mid-years, and the winter ended with the state championship in Middlebury for the fourth consecutive time.

The first two scheduled games, with Hamilton and Amherst, were cancelled for lack of ice, and the season opened with a 7-3 defeat by Brown at Providence. Three of the Middlebury regulars were victims of the "flu" at the time. A victory over Norwich, 3-0, on Middlebury ice, started things off on the home rink. This victory was repeated soon afterwards at Norwich by a 5-0 score. Then followed the worst defeat the team has suffered, when a far superior Clarkson team avenged their defeat of last year by trouncing the Middlebury players, at Potsdam, 13-1. The following day, the team defeated St. Lawrence, 2-0.

The University of Vermont suffered the first of their season's defeats by the Middlebury players a few days later, when they were subdued at Burlington on poor ice, 1-0. St. Stephen's went down before the Blue at Middlebury two days later by a 2-0 score insuring Middlebury of the state title. The third and last defeat of the season was suffered at Princeton, in a game which was much closer than the score of 7-3 would indicate. The following day, Williams was defeated at Williams-town in an overtime game, 3-2. The closing game gave the Middlebury supporters a chance to see the team swamp Vermont 5-0.

The second Vermont game was the last game in Middlebury uniform for Captain Kelley, Douglas, Gruggel, and Jason. The loss of these men is a great blow to the squad and much depends on the yearlings who so adequately filled in during the last of the season.
Tennis, 1928

Middlebury's 1928 tennis season ended successfully with six runs and three defeats. Matches with St. Stephen's, Tufts, Worcester Tech, and Vermont were cancelled because of inclement weather.

The first trip of the season brought victories over Clark University and Worcester Tech, and a defeat by Holy Cross. In the Junior week competition the Blue won from St. Michael's and Norwich, and were beaten by B. U. The next week saw defeat at the hands of Vermont for the first time in many years. The season closed with a victory over St. Michael's and a match conceded by Norwich after the Panther singles team won two matches.

COACH HESSLER, in his second year as Freshman mentor, produced a team which was able to bring another state championship to Middlebury, when the 1932 team defeated the Norwich and Vermont Freshmen teams, and finished the season with three victories to their credit and two defeats marked against them. This season's victory over the Vermont yearlings broke a three-year winning streak of the Green, and marked the first season for many years in which both Vermont and Norwich were defeated in Freshmen football.

The season opened on October 6 with a 38-0 victory over the Plattsburg Normal School. This was the first indication of the strength of the team and of the individual players, and after this contest, Duquette, quarterback, and Nelson, center, were elected joint captains. The following week, the second home game, with Clark School of Hanover, N. H., proved more disastrous, when the Freshmen went down before the heavy prep school team by a 19-0 score, in a game in which Duquette and Nelson justified their teammates' choice by starring again. Playing their first game off their home field the next week-end, the team suffered their other defeat of the season at the hands of Goddard Seminary at Barre, Vt., in a closely fought battle, ending with a 12-7 score. The high light in this game was a 60-yard run for a touchdown by Hess, of the Frosh.

Enriched by their experience in the first three games, the Freshmen proved their ability in the third home game on October 26 when they made their first bid for the state title by defeating Norwich, 1932, 19-7. A hint of what was to come the following week-end was given in this game, in which the Blue outplayed the Norwich team in all departments of the game. Duquette and Nelson played their usual sterling brand of football in this game, and, in addition to their work, that of Attick and Goering was noticeably good. The Green and Gold team appeared dangerous only in the second period, when their aerial attack had the Middlebury Freshmen baffled for a time. It was in this period that they pushed across their touchdown. Middlebury scored one in each of the other periods, coming back in the second half to win the game.

With a fortnight rest before the Vermont Freshmen game on November 10, at Burlington, Coach Hessler's charges were in top form to break the losing streak which Middlebury Freshmen teams have undergone in their encounters with Vermont during the last three years. That their top form was creditable is evidenced by the score of their victory, 19-6. The Green threatened only in the third period, when they scored their touchdown. The running of the Middlebury backfield offset the long punts of the Vermont fullback, Powell, and with the Blue line holding well, it was only the kicking of Powell that saved Vermont from a worse defeat than they suffered. Duquette's running was the feature of the game, and his passing was also a large contributory factor in the final score.

THE Women's Athletic Association started a campaign several years ago for mass participation which would submerge the individual in the group. The person who is outstanding is given the opportunity to develop leadership by assisting with the coaching and refereeing. This plan would relieve the Department of Physical Education of some of the duties which should be carried by the W. A. A., but which are more frequently shouldered by the instructor.

Frequent contributions are made to the News Letter published by the Athletic Conference of American College Women. The Association is also a member of the United States Field Hockey Association.

The activities started with the successful hockey season. Student coaches worked under the direction of Miss Young and Marjorie Sibley, '29. Marjorie Sibley was the delegate to the Hockey Camp in Pocono, Pa.

The season ended with an outdoor celebration on the Hockey Field. Each class ate by its own bonfire and then all gathered around the Junior Champion's fire to sing class songs. All-Midd and class teams were announced and awards given out. The final act of the season was to elect Ruth Maltby, '30, as head of this sport for the coming fall.

The next big event was the Play Day with the University of Vermont, plans for which had been in progress since the previous year. About seventy girls arrived in Middlebury from Burlington shortly after noon on the 6th of October. They were given opportunity to gain strength for the ensuing athletic events by means of sandwiches and coffee served at the Recitation Hall. The bugler was the herald of the afternoon and after the division of the Middlebury group and U. V. M. group into four squads, each made up of equal numbers of Middlebury and Vermont girls, time was given for the squad organization and creation of squad yells.

The chief events were relays, hockey, volley ball, and tennis, points being given to the winners of each event, and for the best cheering. This is, to our knowledge, the first time a Play Day has been tried in New England and it is hoped that it will be made an annual event, at both Middlebury and Vermont.

At the present time the Association considers an invitation from St. Lawrence University to attend a Play Day to be held there in May, at which Wells, Elmira, Cornell, Vermont, and several other colleges and universities will be represented.

The Constitution was subjected to the usual revision and a complete reorganization of the tennis tournaments resulted. Beginning with the 1929 season, a cup is to be awarded to the winner of the College Championship and no points are to be given.

This followed the enforcement of the rule that a girl could participate in only two major and one minor sports. Now one is permitted to take part in tennis or archery, either as a minor sport for credit or for the fun of playing.

Contrary to the consensus of opinion, the award of a Blazer to a Senior girl is not an annual event, but is given at the discretion of the Committee, made up of Miss Ross, Miss Young, Miss Rosevear, one member of the Council, and one member of the Student body not on the Council. This award is based on the rendition of service to the college, but not confined to athletics alone.
The class of 1928 made a last gallant struggle and the end of the season saw the members of the team wearing their numerals and champions of baseball. Such reward was deserved after the persistency shown by these people in the course of their athletic career. Though not always successful, they were preeminently "good sports." Captained by Adelma Hadley, numerals were awarded to:

Dorothy Brackett  Katherine Burtis  Gertrude Parsons
Helen Bradley   Adelma Hadley  Dorothy Perry
Alice Brown     Florence Lockerby  Miriam Sweet

Florence Lockerby, '28  Ruth Moore, '29  Virginia Cole, '31
Irene Avery, '29   Blanche Emory, '30  Helena Dundas, '31
Emeline Freeborn, '29  Elizabeth Parker, '30  Helen Putnam, '31
Volley Ball

Volley ball season, this year, was unusually exciting and the competition exceptionally keen. The Juniors, due to their excellent team work, won the championship and their numerals.

Unusually keen competition offered by the class of '32 caused each class to put on the best exhibitions of hockey playing that the Association has seen for some years. Good weather throughout the season permitted the carrying through of the schedule to completion. The final honors of the year went to the Juniors as champions, whose record shows no defeats and one game tied by the Freshmen.

The Women’s “M” Club was organized in February, 1928, for the purpose of stimulating interest in women’s athletics. It was first organized for social purposes, but has since developed a program whereby it is of assistance to the Physical Education department and W. A. A. by acting in the capacity of officials.

In the early fall the “M” Club shared the responsibility of the “Play Day” with the University of Vermont, securing rooms for the visitors in the various dormitories on the campus.

The last Sunday night before the Christmas vacation saw the attempt of the club to establish a new tradition at Middlebury. The students marched from Chapel at the close of the evening Vespers to a lighted Christmas tree at the foot of the hill where they gathered around to sing Christmas Carols. It is a new institution in the college and in the event of its final establishment on the College Calendar, the credit goes to the Women’s “M” Club of 1928-29.

An unexpected command vibrates across the gym, startling the unsuspecting Freshman into immediate action in the wrong direction. Such, however, is temporary and one soon learns to see the twinkle in her eye which is hidden by the command. The upperclassman has long since realized this and chuckles at the speed of the Freshman response.

Marion L. Young, Director of the Department of Physical Education, is one whom every girl in college knows and respects. Through her discernment and sportsmanship, she has made possible the success which the W. A. A. has achieved.

The position of President of the Women’s Athletic Association demands one of pronounced athletic ability, who loves a game, an all-round sport, who is thus enabled to get a broader perspective of the field that athletics cover.

It demands also one of executive ability, who can master details, can make the Council carry its share of responsibilities and derive pleasure from the joy of such association.

It demands again one whose interests are broader than those of athletics, who realizes their relative value and so makes them of real worth in the college.
Tennis

Tennis is an individual game and Rose Marchiano, '29, proved her individual superiority by emerging from the Spring Tournament as the champion of the Women's College. The best match of the tournament was that between Marchiano and Emeline Freeborn in the three-set fight for the title. Clever volleying, fast cross-court shots on the part of both gave a pretty exhibition of the brand of tennis the name Champion demands.

There is evidence of good material and keen competition in the Freshman class as demonstrated by the Ladder Tournament run off this fall. Barbara Landis, '32, showed up well as a consistent player and keen competition is expected to make for interest in the coming Spring Tournament in which the W. A. A. is giving a cup to the title winner.

College champion, Rose Marchiano, '29; runner-up, Emeline Freeborn, '29.

Ladder Tournament, fall of 1928: winner, Myrtle C. Bachelder, '30; runner-up, Rose Marchiano, '29.

Hiking Club

This is a comparatively young club; in spite of its youth, however, it shows a membership of sixty-seven. Organized hikes are held every Saturday afternoon, weather permitting. A trip to Grand View was planned, but due to the weather conditions was postponed until spring. Nathalie G. Hall, '30, is leader of the club. The association awards W. A. A. credit for the organized hikes, such including hikes to the Morgan Horse Farm and other places of interest. This year a greater interest has been aroused in unorganized hikes for which credit is given.

Archery

A successful season culminating in a friendly contest with the University of Vermont archers on Play Day indicates that this new sport at Middlebury will have its share of enthusiasts in the future. A small start was made during the year 1927 and at the present time the department is well equipped with bows, arrows and targets. Clarissa Peirce, '30, head of archery, deserves credit for the interest which has been shown due to her efficiency as instructor.

Horseback Riding

This may be followed either for pure pleasure, after the first few lessons, or for pleasure and credit in that the Department of Physical Education offers it in the spring and fall as a means of meeting the Freshmen and Sophomore requirements. One hour a week credit for riding during the required hours is given. Emily White, '29, acts as instructor.
Fraternities
The Interfraternity Council

The Interfraternity Council is the body that regulates all interfraternity matters, such as the making and enforcing of the rushing rules, and the consideration of all questions arising under them. The Council is composed of a Senior and Junior member from each fraternity.

Wauhanakee, the honorary Senior society of the men's college, was founded at Middlebury in 1911 to mark and reward those who have given of their time and ability to the service of the college and have been outstanding men in their class in the various college activities. The new members are chosen in the later part of the Junior year. Within the past few years the society has been active in conducting athletic rallies and promoting college activities in every way possible.

The Banshee Chapter of Mortar Board, National Senior Women's Honorary Society, was installed in Middlebury, Sunday, May 27, 1928.

Banshee, the old local society, was founded in Middlebury in 1912. Its members were not to exceed 12 and were to be selected as those women, “most popular and most representative of Middlebury.”

Mortar Board was founded in February, 1918, at Syracuse, N. Y., by representatives from existing senior honorary societies at Cornell, University of Michigan, Ohio State University and Swarthmore. The name Mortar Board was taken from the local name of the Ohio State chapter, but in order to secure for the national organization a place among the Greek societies, a Greek motto was adopted.

The purpose of Mortar Board, as declared in the preamble to the constitution, is “To provide for cooperation between these societies, to promote college loyalty, and to stimulate and develop a finer type of college woman.” Service, scholarship, and leadership are the objectives of the organization.

New members are elected by the outgoing chapter from undergraduates who have completed five-eighths of their college work. No chapter is permitted more than fifteen members. There is a definite scholarship standard determined by each chapter to meet its own local conditions and standards. At present there are 40 active chapters scattered throughout the country. Conventions are held biennially. The magazine is Mortar Board Quarterly. The badge is a small black enamel mortar board with gold edgings and tassel, bearing upon it the Greek letters Pi Sigma Alpha.

Departmental Clubs

The English Club is a selective one, high grades being necessary for eligibility. It was the founder of the Saxonian.

German Club

Short entertainments, German plays, interesting games, and talks on Germany and German customs describe the meetings of the German Club, which are found to be both instructive and enjoyable by students taking the language.
Young Women's Christian Association

The Young Women's Christian Association has weekly meetings, at which discussions are held or speakers heard. It is in charge of the Big Sister arrangement for welcoming freshmen, sponsors a World Fellowship group, Silver Bay and a Rural Discussion Group. The World Fellowship group deals with religious work in foreign countries and provides for the education of a young girl in Guadalajura, Mexico.

Rural Group Discussion

Emeline Freeborn, '29, Chairman

Rural problems and rural schools are the special study topics for the Rural Discussion Group. The Group is also helping to provide music for near-by rural churches.

Women's Debating Club

Officers

The Debating Club, managed by Elizabeth McDermott, '29, has not participated in any intercollegiate debates so far this year, but has spent its time preparing for several that are planned later in the semester. An unusually interesting topic has been chosen, “Resolved: That the American Jury System be abolished,” and the college is interestingly waiting to hear it discussed.

Wig and Pen is the directing body of the College Dramatic Club founded in 1922. Its members follow one of two courses in Play Production under Professor V. Spencer Goodreds. Each year those upper classmen who have shown unusual ability in dramatics are elected to membership. For the year 1928-29 Wig and Pen has had a membership of thirty-two. Three hundred undergraduates belong to the Dramatic Club, at least half of which are active members. All members are privileged to sign up for those particular phases of production in which they are most interested: acting, make-up, costuming, properties, prompting, or designing.

During the current year, Wig and Pen has presented two one-act plays on six different occasions. The staging and direction of the plays are handled by Wig and Pen members under the supervision of Professor Goodreds.

"Torches," a play of the Italian Renaissance, "Why the Chimes Rang," a very effective Christmas play, "The Thrice Promised Bride," a colorful and artistic Chinese play, and the "Valiant," a play of forceful acting, were the high lights of the season. Each of these contributed something lasting and impressive to the audience, and each was skillfully presented. Other successful plays were: "Modesty," "Suppressed Desires," and "The Wedding Anniversary."

Last spring the first Swift Playwriting Contest was held, awarding prizes of $75, $50, and $25 for the three best plays submitted, judging half on the script and half on the actual playing qualities as shown by production. Raymond Bosworth, '29, won first prize with his play, "The Blessed Vagrants"; "The Second Time" by Charles Molam, '28, received the second prize; and the third was awarded to Richard Gould, '28, for his play, "A Physical Phantasy." These three plays were produced in the Playhouse and were very successful. They showed a high degree of talent, with great promise for the future if the three winners continue in the field of playwriting.
Scene from "The Torches"

Under the direction of Storrs Lee, '28, and Alice Fales, '28, the Wig and Pen, published last spring a book entitled the Silhouette containing a detailed history of the Middlebury Dramatic Club and pictures, casts, and brief reviews of all plays produced during the year. The book was the first of its kind in College Dramatic and Little Theatre work and proved valuable as a chronicle of the year's dramatic activities. The Silhouette will be published again this year with Arthur Lawson, '30, as Editor; Dorothea E. Higgins, '30, assistant; Richard Amerman, '31, Business Manager; and Raymond Saulnier, '29, and Alice Mary Guests, '30, assistants. Kenneth McClelland, '31, will do the art work on the book.

The Playhouse has been entirely renovated this year under the direction of Professor Goodreds. The interior has been painted and decorated, and a new lighting system is to be installed. New experiments have been tried of combining drapes and flats in sets and have proved very effective. The costuming has been especially noteworthy, as for example in "Torches" and "The Thrice Promised Bride." A marked improvement has been noted in the staging of productions, with great futures apparently before the Club.

Senior Ball

The social activities of the Class of 1928 were brought to a close with the Senior Ball. The emotions of pleasure and sadness were mingled on this occasion since every one felt with the passing of each moment, the nearness of the time for departure from the college that held such a big place in his heart. The music was furnished by Shepherd and Swanson of New London, and added greatly to the pleasure of the evening.

The patrons and patronesses were: President and Mrs. Paul D. Moody, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar J. Wiley, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond H. White, Dean Eleanor S. Ross, and Mrs. Maude O. Mason.

Senior Chapel Service

In the early morning after the Ball, the Seniors gathered together in the Mead Memorial for their last service together. The queer sad feeling brought by that last handclasp and those words of good will for the future, will long be remembered by each and all of the Class as their final farewell to the College, and to each other.
Junior Week, Class of 1929

From the very moment of the tapping of the Waulamakees which started off the week's activities, it was evident that the Junior Week of the Class of 1929 was to prove bigger and better than any of its predecessors. Something happened every minutes, and the program was full of fun and entertainment. Athletic events, a Glee Club Concert, the Prom, a Tea Dance, Interfraternity Stunts and Songs, and the Junior Play were just a few of the outstanding features of those peppy four days of recreation, and one felt as thought one were really experiencing the kind of college life of which one reads in books. A success? Well, rather!

Tea Dance

After the game on the opening day, many of the students and most of the faculty went to the gymnasium to attend the Junior Tea Dance. Here they were officially welcomed to the week of merry-making. Fenderson's Fun Makers' supplied the music for dancing, and at its close every one felt that this feature, added to the Junior Week festivities by the Class of '28, would certainly continue as a permanent part of the Junior Week Program.

Junior Promenade

The Annual Junior Prom held Friday evening at the Inn was more than ever a great success. Approximately one hundred and ten couples, the largest crowd in the history of Middlebury to attend a Junior Prom, whiled away the all too fast fleeting hours from nine till two, to the accompaniment of Charlie Henderson and his Jazz Experts from Boston. Several clever imitations by Henderson and his orchestra added a novel touch to the dance, while, set as it was in the ever attractive surroundings of the Inn, was voted an unqualified success.

The patrons and patronesses were: President and Mrs. Paul D. Moody, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar J. Wiley, Dean Eleanor S. Ross, Miss Mary Rosevear, and Dean Burt Hazeltine.
Junior Play

“SQUARE CROOKS”
By JAMES P. JUDGE

“Square Crooks” is a very clever play, the humorous and the tragic being well combined. Surprising bits of slang and fast repartee are sprinkled throughout, and its entertaining qualities made it an ideal play for the occasion.

The cast handled the play with utmost success, Raymond Bosworth and Doris Collins doing especially fine work in the leads, and adding other laurels to those already gained. The other members of the cast also performed their parts well and contributed much of the humor in the play.

Junior Week, Class of 1930

Another Junior Week—but this time bigger, better, and peppier than ever, since it is under the auspices of the Class of 1930!

All the old features will be retained except the Glee Club Concert, and there will be many innovations. One of the important new additions to our program will be a Bridge-and-Dance, to be held on the evening of Thursday, May 9, at the Inn. The tables will be arranged around the room, cabaret-style, with room to dance in the middle. The music will be good, and a snappy little song-and-dance act is planned by way of diversion.

Saturday morning there will be breakfast served at several of the fraternity houses, and after the Rope Pull there will be more fun in the way of—but that's a secret.

At any rate, Junior Week promises to be all any one could want and then some!

Sophomore Hop

No Thanksgiving could be a success without the Sophomore Hop, and of course this one was no exception. It was held at the Middlebury Inn, and about seventy couples attended. The Garnet Goblins contributed to make it a colorful affair. Unique favors in the form of cider bottles added a novel note to the occasion, and the dance was altogether enjoyable.

The patrons and patronesses were Doctor and Mrs. V. C. Harrington, Professor and Mrs. P. N. Swett, Professor and Mrs. R. L. Barney, Mrs. Maud O. Mason, Dean Eleanor S. Ross, and Dean B. A. Hazeltine.

Scullion's Ball

The seventh annual Servitor's Ball was held on the evening of January 26, beginning at 4:30. Happy Flint's Black Panther Serenaders kept the occasion a peppy one, and the Hunting Lodge at Hepburn was very attractively decorated.

The evening was an especially delightful one since those present had the pleasure of welcoming back President Moody and of hearing of his meetings with Middlebury alumni abroad.

Literati Dance

An entirely new idea, that of having a Publications' Dance, was carried out this year, and was voted a big success. Fifty couples "tripped the light fantastic" to the measures of Gorham's Tuneful Typesetters. The Committee responsible for this wholly delightful evening included. Frank A. Chromec, Chairman, Henry E. Hunt, '29, H. Frances Foley, '29, and Eloise E. White, '29.

The patrons and patronesses were Dean and Mrs. E. J. Wiley, Mrs. Maud O. Mason, and Mrs. R. H. White.
Frosh Frolic

The Class of 1933 put on an especially frolicsome "Frolic" this year, much to the enjoyment of every one who attended. It was given February 9 at Middlebury Inn, and attracted a larger gathering than ever before. The music was furnished by Bill Mangan and his Band. A unique feature was added in the balloon dance.

The patrons and patronesses were President and Mrs. Paul D. Moody, Dean Burt Hazeltine, Dean Eleanor S. Ross, and Mrs. Maud O. Mason.

O succeed once may be a matter of luck. But when one and another and another and another and another until they represent a continuous record of achievement, then it must mean "good marksmanship." The most important problem to be solved by the extra session of Congress is not the farm relief or the prohibition question, but that of determining the social standing of Vice-President Curtis' sister.

Suppose the 21 Lives Described Below

had resisted the agent’s attempt to serve their best interests with life insurance, but had fallen into the popular belief that the stock market offered greater opportunities.

Regardless of how successful their stock or other investment selections might have been, they would have utterly ignored the uncertainty of life and the fact that a careful medical examination could not guarantee their exemption from the fatalities that occurred before the first year elapsed.

The following Death Claims paid by us during 1928 represent life insurance that had been in force for the period designated, ranging from 13 days to 11 months.

A mark that men look for Valve buyers in every industry know the Jenkins "Diamond" mark, and look for it on the valves they install.

They know—by experience—that this mark is the sign of a valve in which they can place full faith.

The metals, for example, are chosen with the utmost care, and are subjected to thorough analyses by competent metallurgists. And Jenkins standards are as scrupulously high, throughout every stage of manufacture.

Obtainable through supply houses everywhere.

The Wisest King

The wise old king sat on his throne,
A jolly old fellow was he,
He rolled in wealth, and for his health
He traversed land and sea.
This wise old king at table sat
Every day at a certain hour,
His bread was white and feathery light
Made from the best of flour.

The queen from far off Sheba came,
And a beautiful queen was she.
She heard of bread and rolls so light,
They feasted with mirth and glee.
He gave her many costly gifts
And presents quite a dower,
But best of all the previous gifts
Was a sack of "Wise King" flour.
